MY COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG

The reports which come to us of the war activities of follows: various nations and recorded history in regard to past wars all seem to indicate that, when a country becomes implicated in a war with another country, the people flock seal Cove at the Exhibition Build to the colors either in defence of their country or of what ing. they consider to be their rights. No person stops to consider whether his country is right or wrong at such a time. Usually there is what is considered a good reason cy champion of all the parks will for fighting and this case is gradually built up by patriots be determined. until it becomes an obsession. Sentiment overcomes pure reason.

It is very clear that today that, no matter how we on ing at 7:30. The display will be held the outside regard the war against China carried on by on Monday following at the Ex-Japan, the people of each country think they are right, hibition Building. their cause just. Yet both sides cannot be right. We have our own ideas about it but so have the Japanese and the Chinese. Sane thinking disappears when nations go to war.

THE WEATHER

As an indication that Prince Rupert is not the only! place to suffer as a result of the present unfavorable season, the following from the Seattle Star will prove illumin-

"This writer has just been looking over some swell! art (that means pictures, in case you don't know) that we'd like to run on Page One tomorrow.

"The art's good—the photographer's idea was fine it's new and timely. But we can't run it.

"The whole trouble is that the weather gods have got their wires crossed.

"Heading on the art reads: 'There's More Than One Way to Keep Cool-Here Are a Few Suggestions.'

"But who in heck wants advice on how to keep cool when the big problem is to scrape up enough wood in the basement to take the chill off the house in the morning?"

EVERYTHING SWELL

That reminds us of a lady tourist who was in the city recently from the United States. She evidently knew only one word with which to express herself. When asked if she liked the gardens, she remarked emphatically that they were "swell." The weather, the boat, the people and the enjoyment were all "swell." This is mentioned as a warning to Prince Rupert people not against the use of this terrible expression but against overworking any one word or expression in their conversation.
