THREE GOOD NOMINATIONS

Three proven men have been nominated for the ridings of Skeena, Atlin and Omineca in the Liberal interest. Mr. Kenney was an active member of the last legislature and he was particularly keen in looking after the interests of the northern section of the province. Mr. Asselstine moved from the constituency since the last election but he kept in close touch with it and its needs and, although now settled definitely in Vancouver, is in an excellent position to serve the needs of the north. Mr. Connelly has made a fine impression during his brief membership to date. It is understood that H. G. Perry is pretty sure to be renominated in Prince George and Premier Pattullo in Prince Rupert. The general opinion seems to be that it would be a good thing to let these five men finish the work which they have so well commenced.

AN ACTIVE TIME

Evidently there is an active period coming for Prince Rupert. Among the works which are to be carried out are the new federal building, development of the Ecstall mining property by the Gulf Sulphur Inc., erection and operation of a new reduction plant at Port Edward, construction of a new oil plant on the waterfront at Cow Bay, construction and operation of a mineral sampling plant, steady operation of two mines at or near Surf Point on Porcher Island and development of other mining properties in that neighborhood and at various other points in the district, considerable timber activity both on the mainland and on Queen Charlotte Islands and increased road building everywhere. This does not include the completion of the naval building on the waterfront or work projected in connection with coast defence and air stations and the possible re-opening of Anyox smelter. If there is anything like a normal fishing season, the summer should be a busy one. There are other possibilities of developments which it is hoped may come to fruition this year. The tourist season promises well and on the whole the future looks very promising.

C. C. F. NAMES CANDIDATES

Matthew Glenday and Frank Roberts Nominated For Vancouver Centre

VANCOUVER, April 23.—Matthew Glenday and Frank Roberts were yesterday nominated Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidates for Vancouver Centre in the forthcoming provincial election. The former was chosen on the second ballot and the latter on the fourth. Glenday comes from Parksville, Vancouver Island.

Liberals, Conservatives and Social Reconstruction candidates have not yet been chosen for this double riding in which Dr. R. H. Smith and Paul McD. Kerr have already been nominated as Social Crediters. Glenday and Roberts are the first C. C. F. candidates so far to be formally nominated in the province although the movement expects to be represented in practically all ridings.

Bernice Palmer says . . .

A coastguard air station, costing $500,000 and equipped for all types of rescue by air and water, will be constructed on Mills Field, San Francisco Bay, soon. Establishment of the station is aimed at preventing recurrence of the plane crash of two months ago which killed eleven persons in the bay. The coastguard station will be equipped with four amphibian ships and possibly a patrol boat. There will be barracks for 60 men and the entire Bay area will be patrolled. The urgent need of such a base has been felt for a long time and certainly the present staff at the existing coastguard station has had plenty of opportunity in the last year to practice!

And speaking of planes. Don't forget to take a trip over the Bay when you visit here. No trip is complete without one and until one has been 'way out to the Farallones, and over the Bay, San Francisco and metropolitan Oakland, one cannot really say he has "seen" this part of California.

Since the opening of the bridge, the air ferry has been discontinued and—with tears in my voice—so has the nickel ferry, made famous by Oakland's beloved Mayor Davies, now dead. This ferry, that leaves from the foot of Broadway and ambles along the estuary and then across to San Francisco, now charges a dime! It is the favorite rendezvous of soap box orators and one can usually be assured of an interesting trip on the "dime ferry," especially on the last boat at 5:20. This ferry is also greatly patronized by hikers on their way to Marin County. It rather cuts the expense as it is necessary to take another ferry from San Francisco to Marin making a double fare.

One of these days I'll tell you about Marin. It is to us the picnickers' paradise as Shawatlans is to you.

FORM OF SERVICE

Church Heads Recognize World-Wide Audience for Coronation

LONDON, April 23: (CP)—Having in mind that "by marvel of science" millions of British Empire subjects and others throughout the world will hear the Coronation service in Westminster Abbey, May 2, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York have suggested forms of service for use in churches the preceding Sunday and on Coronation Day to prepare congregations to listen to the broadcast.

The archbishops commend to the clergy of all parts of the Empire inclusion in the addresses and sermons of some reference to this "manner, hitherto unknown in history, the King will come to his crowning, accompanied by his people." They point out the people of many lands will be able to hear the words which will lay the great charge upon the King "as if they themselves were present in the Abbey Church of St. Peter at Westminster."

For services Sunday, May 9, the archbishops suggest an Old Testament lesson from the Books of Kings, to include the verse "The Lord our God be with us as He was with our fathers." A second lesson is commended from the words of St. Paul to the Philippians beginning "In nothing be anxious; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God."

Prayers would be offered "for our sovereign lord, King George, set over us by Thy grace and providence to be our King . . ." It is suggested the first and third verses of the National Anthem be sung, the second being omitted.

Suggested Hymns

For services throughout the Empire Coronation Day the archbishops suggest as the opening hymn: "All People that on Earth do dwell," followed by an address to include the admonition: "Brethren, we are met together to add our prayer to the thoughts of countless multitudes whose minds are turning at this time to one of the most sacred places in the history of our race—the Abbey of St. Peter at Westminster. Thither our King and Queen are coming to receive from God the anointing which seals their life's services and bestows God's grace for its fulfilment . . ."

Prayers for the King and Queen would follow. Then the minister might say: "Almighty God, who rulest in the Kingdom of men, and hast given to our sovereign lord, King George, a great dominion in all parts of the earth; draw together, we pray Thee, in true fellowship the men of divers races, languages and customs, who dwell therein, that, bearing one another's burdens and working together in brotherly concord, they may fulfil the purpose of Thy Providence, and set forward Thy everlasting Kingdom." The service would conclude with the Lord's Prayer and part of the National Anthem.

SIMPLIFYING GOVERNMENT

Editor, Daily News:
A remark one often hears nowadays is that the provincial government might with advantage be abolished. The municipalities can look after themselves in most of the essentials and the territory in between might as well be administered by agents suitably placed. Maybe there would be an end to the ever increasing up-grade of the public debt.

Fish Stories From Bermuda

Sea Residents Do Just About Everything Around Little Atlantic Island

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 23: (CP)—When bigger and better fish stories are told, the Bermuda Royal Gazette and Colonist aims to be right there telling them.

At Angel's Cove, Bermuda, says the Gazette, you can prove to your satisfaction that some "believe it or not" fish stories are true. "A certain fish there when told, will slick his nose out of the water and blow a bubble-kiss at you; while his wife lies on her side and winks. Another will stay still and let you stroke its sides. Still another will pull his blanket of sand over him and show you how he sleeps.

"When you approach a school of Groupers, all heads pop out of the water, mouths open wide, not for peanuts but begging for a fish without a line attached. Drop them a line and they'll examine the bait for a long time before taking it, to make sure there's no hook in it."

But the Gazette saves the best one until the end: "The octopus won't hurt you, even if you shake hands with it."
