

HOW APPLE WAS NAMED

History of McIntosh Red Is Recalled by Ontario Man

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27: (CP) — During his 55 years in western Canada Ontario-born Ira McIntosh has seen the apple tree bearing his family name find increasing favor with British Columbia fruit-growers.

Although he worked in boyhood on the "McIntosh Red" nursery farm at Dundela, near Dundas Ont., it was not to popularize the family - developed fruit that he came west but to follow his trade as a carpenter.

Ira McIntosh worked on the first hotel built at Banff, Alta. long since destroyed by fire, and can point to several Vancouver buildings he helped construct.

But looking back over his 84 years he remembers his uncle Allan McIntosh, who grew an or-

A monument at Dundela recalls that the first McIntosh Red apple tree was grown by Allan's father John McIntosh, who settled there in 1796 when he left Schenectady N. Y., after the American Revolution.

He planted 20 apple trees, of which only one was the McIntosh Red variety which is grown now throughout Canada.

BIBLICAL FISHERIES

Unique Address by Dr. Neal Carter — Good Book Does Not Mention Any Particular Species

"Fisher in Bible History" was the subject of a somewhat unique address delivered before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday by Dr. Neal Carter, director of Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station.

Dr. Carter described as strange the fact that, although over one hundred birds and beasts are mentioned by name in the Bible, not a single fish is mentioned by name despite the great significance of fishing in Biblical times and the fact that several of the disciples and apostles were professional fishermen.

In the course of his address Dr. Carter cited many Bible references in regard to marine life and fishing methods which he had collected from the Bible. Uses and customs in connection with fishes in the ancient times were referred to and the describing of these proved of much interest.

D. G. Borland, president of the club, was in the chair and thanked Dr. Carter for the discourse. In addition to Dr. Carter, guests were W. Glass of Steveston and J. C. Hammett of Vancouver.

Timely Recipes

FISH CAKES

Fish cakes or balls are one of the dishes in which many housewives use dried fish. They're easy to make, and, properly made, they're easy to take. There are numerous recipes for making them and here is one. Take one cup of pieces of freshened fish and boil it with two cups of diced potatoes until the potatoes are cooked, then mash the fish and potatoes until they are thoroughly blended; add a teaspoon of butter and pepper to suit the taste, and beat the mixture until it is light; allow the mixture to become slightly cool, then add to it a well-beaten egg, shape pieces of the mixture in to balls about the size of a large walnut and fry them in deep, smoking hot fat. The ingredients indicated will make a sufficient quantity to serve six persons.

Man in the Moon

There is great disappointment among local citizens with nothing to do. They cannot continue to gaze at activities in connection with building of the Post Office.

During the past week there has been a great increase in the number of unemployed in the city. Two hundred store clerks have had nothing to do except look at each other and gossip.

There is a great race going on. Time and money are having a contest to see which flies fastest.

Customer: "I've brought that last pair of trousers to be re-seated. You know I sit a lot."
Tailor: "Yes, and I hope you've brought the bill to be receipted. You know I've stood a lot."

First Boarder: "This cheese is so strong, it could walk over and say 'Hello!' to the coffee."
Second Boarder: "Yes, but the coffee is too weak to answer back."
