BIG CELEBRATION

Smithers is preparing for a big celebration early next month. Not only is it the silver birthday of the town! which will be fittingly observed but the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia is holding its annual convention there at the same time and there is to be a big sports program including baseball matches between Smithers and Prince Rupert and horse races. A topical Baseball Standings entertainment will be held on the Saturday night showing the Smithers of 1913. Old timers will get together and there will be a big dance at the Lake Kathlyn pavilion. On the Sunday a pienic for all children will take place in the New York morning with the final baseball game in the afternoon and Pittsburg the golf championship games for the championship of Northern British Columbia. The town will be in gala dress all the time of the celebration and every effort possible will be made to entertain out of town visitors and make their stay pleasant. It will be a big event in the history of Smithers and, doubtless, people from all over the north country will gather there to help the local folk celebrate.

HERRIDGE'S OPINION

W. D. Herridge, who was one of the aspirants for chicago Conservative leadership, was very dissatisfied with the Philadelphia platform adopted by the party at its Ottawa convention St. Louis when Dr. R. J. Manion was chosen leader. Mr. Herridge did not object to the leader but took exception to the platform on which he would appeal to the electors at the next opportunity. He said the resolutions embodying the program were "an insult to the convention. They are a (CP)—Aston Villa's successful bid nings treachery to the people of this country. They are the su- for promotion to the English Foot- The captains were O'Neil for Acpreme accomplishment of the reactionary forces within the Conservative party."

Mr. Herridge proposed to the convention economic ($58,360). and monetary reforms. He urged government planning and control of monetary and economic systems, collective bargaining, co-operative buying and selling, establishment of minimum prices and wages, control of monopolies and regulation of bank and mortgage rates. The platform Agreeing to give him his release if adopted by the Conservatives, said this prominent Con- he could sell himself to another servative leader, fails to disclose any solution or under- team for 350,000 lire (about $20,standing of the problems of Canada. Mr. Herridge is a brother-in-law of Mr. Bennett they had remained at home. If it does not attain this obthe retiring leader and it is generally understood was largely responsible for the series of radical radio addresses read by Mr. Bennett a few months prior to the last general election. An effort was made to groom him for the leadership but he met little favor in Quebec and he was not considered a "safe man" by the monetary interests of Ontario. Already he is being put in the same general kitchen is hot and stuffy. Holidays are not necessary class as Hon. H. H. Stevens and G. G. McGeer, all able men but not considered "safe."

SUMMER EXODUS

The summer exodus of local residents has emptied many of the homes and interfered with local business. In some cases the whole family has gone out of town and in others only the women and children. In yet a few homes one or two members of the family have gone away.

While the summer holiday season is an expensive, time, it is valuable in that those who have been away return home with a new outlook on life. They have made new contacts, and in some cases returned with new enthusiasms for their work.

If the holiday has been beneficial it must have had the effect of making the holidayers more contented with their lot and able to carry out their work better than if
