HUGHES IS SUCCESSFUL IN RECORD

Lands in New York, Breaking Post Gatty Record For Flight Around World

NEW YORK, July 14: (CP)—Howard Hughes and his four world-girdling companions landed at Floyd Bennett airport from Winnipeg at 10:36 a.m. Pacific Standard time today. They made the flight around the world in less than four days, smashing the former record of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty by more than three days.

The total elapsed time for the globe-circling was set unofficially at ninety-one hours and sixteen minutes.

This record more than halves the seven day, eighteen hour and 49 minute circling by Wiley and Post in 1933.

Hughes drove his ship at full speed from Minneapolis to Floyd Bennett airport. He had arrived at the midwestern city at 5:38 a.m. Pacific Standard Time from Fairbanks and took off again almost immediately at 6:11 a.m.

The speed for the elapsed time was almost 161 miles per hour. At Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, July 14: (CP)—Having arrived here early this morning from Fairbanks, Alaska, after the sixth 2100-mile leg of his projected record-breaking speed flight around the world, Howard Hughes and four companions were well ahead of the previous record of the late Wiley Post and Harold Gatty who circled the globe in 7 days and 19 hours.

After the fourth leg of his flight, a 2177-mile hop between Omsk, Siberia, and Yakutsk, Hughes had been sixty hours and forty-one minutes out of New York.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock Hughes landed at Fairbanks taking off a few hours later for Minneapolis.
