FULL OF COMMUNISM

Rev. J. G. Inkster, former pastor of the largest Presbyterian Church in Victoria, recently expressed the hope that no Presbyterian youth would attend the Youth Congress at Toronto in May. He said the Congress was full of communists and anti-Christians. Special youth sermons are to be preached in Presbyterian churches on May 15, that day being known as Empire Youth Sunday.

Catholics throughout the country have been forbidden to participate in the Third Canadian Youth Congress because of its communistic tendencies.

It is claimed that the Youth Conference is along with the "League for Peace and Democracy," "The League Against War and Fascism" and the "Progressive Veterans' Organization," just a branch of communist activity under the wing of the Communist Party and, therefore, something to be avoided.

It seems clear that subversive teachings and propaganda is encouraged by Communists in all parts of the continent with a view to stirring up discontent, especially among youth.

AGREEMENT WITH IRELAND

The announcement that an agreement has been arrived at between Britain and Ireland is one of the most welcome signs of the times. For many years there had been hostility between the two countries. The Irish people have felt they had a grievance and probably they had. At any rate nothing was to be gained by either side by holding out and refusing to admit themselves wrong. It seems as if Premier Chamberlain is a man who can settle differences. It is to be hoped that he has lifted the curse of Cromwell and rid the country of the superstition that England and Ireland are natural enemies.

Attack Trade In Marijuana

LONDON, April 25: (CP) — A move by Scotland Yard to stamp out traffic in marijuana has been made following a court statement that Andrew Vanderberg, Canadian war veteran, sentenced here to 10 years' imprisonment for gunplay, was under the influence of the drug at the time. A product of Indian hemp plant, marijuana may be eaten, drunk or inhaled. The most popular form of taking it is in cigarettes.

The News-Chronicle declared a gang with a distributing centre in Soho had become increasingly active "and the cleverest men in the Yard's dope squad have been put on the track of pedlars of cigarettes containing this dangerous drug." Enormous profits are made and, as is often the case in the illicit drug trade, the customer is frequently swindled.

"Addiction is held responsible for many murders, suicides and particularly sexual assaults. It differs from opium, cocaine and alcohol because it does not produce a craving."

Mourners Startled As 'Corpse' Wakes

Sits Up As Preparations Being Made For Funeral; Similar Case in Jamaica

SCARBOROUGH, Tobago, April 25: (CP)—Evan Manswell, a resident of this southern West Indies island, who was believed to have died, surprised relatives and friends gathered for his funeral by sitting up.

The 70-year-old man was as astounded as were the people who had gathered to attend the last rites for him. He had gone into a trance, so similar to death that preparations for his funeral had been completed.

Manswell recovered slightly, but died shortly afterwards. Relatives were still uncertain as to whether the Tobago man was dead or in another trance, and no announcement was made until three hours later.

The strange case recalled Jamaica's "Mother" Jones. The 90-year-old negress terrified her "mourners" by rising from her coffin last August. She had been pronounced dead by two constables, and according to the custom during the hot season, packed in ice to await burial.

(Five hours later, she rose from her coffin and gave an elaborate description of a heaven where, she said, there were no men. A month after her "first" death, the Jamaica negress died a second time, and officials of the poor house where she was taken after her sojourn in "heaven" said there would be no return this time.

(An icepack as a "cure" for death reached fad proportions in Jamaica before Kingston doctors discouraged the practice, declaring that normally such treatment would expedite rather than postpone death.)

Aged Mother Of Ketchikan Man Dies In South

KETCHIKAN, April 25.—Mrs. Susan Burley, mother of C. R. Burley of Ketchikan, died in Tacoma at the end of the week. She was eighty years of age and had many friends in Ketchikan where she formerly resided.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Hard stools go into the body, and you feel worn, sunk and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top and up". Harmonious and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else.

CANADA'S CHARTERED BANKS VALUE YOUR GOODWILL

WHETHER you deal with a bank or whether you don't, some time soon—say the very next time you are passing the bank's door—why not drop in and get acquainted? You're sure of a welcome, because the bank manager wants to know you. So find out for yourself what kind of fellow he is. And before you leave, take a good look at his staff.

The head offices are manned and managed by just that sort of man! Every general manager in Canada started in the banking business as a junior in some small branch, and rose from the ranks.

This is your introduction to a series of chats in the course of which you will be surprised at how little of mystery and how much of service there is in the business of banking in Canada.

Canada's chartered banks want your goodwill.

It is only by goodwill that banks make a living—and bankers are your fellow-citizens, the same sort of people as you are.

Of course bankers have heard all the old, threadbare jokes about the banker's glass eye, his delight in humiliating worthy souls who ask for loans—even that grand old chestnut about lending the umbrella when the sun is shining and taking it back when it rains.

So if you think you have a new joke, drop in and spring it on your local bank manager—he'll appreciate it. And if it turns out he's heard it before, he'll still have his sense of humour handy enough to get a chuckle, should you chance to tell him that the banks are being held responsible for the latest storms, or for the loss of the hockey game, or for his own neglect to summon prosperity from just around the corner.

Which should prove to you that your banker is, after all, a very human person. He likes people. All bankers like people. And they want people to like them.

Banks want to be helpful. They realize that they succeed only as the people of the community succeed. Enlightened self-interest? Well yes—but not altogether.

Your local manager will tell you that banks are not stiff-necked; that they do not enjoy refusing loans.

They'd be foolish if they did, for goodwill is the whole core and pith and substance of successful banking.

Use your bank! Get to know the manager. If you know him already, he'd like to know you better.

Talk things over with him. Consult him. He'll be glad to advise you on anything within the scope of his banking knowledge and authority.

He is a part of his community. More than that, he is a good citizen, because he is anxious to be helpful to his fellow-citizens in every permissible way.

You have all sorts of interests in common. Because of the town taxes you both pay, you are really business partners in the community.

Then why shouldn't you know each other, understand each other, better?

He knows that his success as a bank manager depends first upon making himself useful to people, and then upon his ability to get along with them. His whole future is wrapped up largely in those two things—and well he knows it!

A bank is in business to sell banking service where such service is needed, and where it will do the community most good. So the banker of popular jest, the cold-eyed being who can only say "No", is a man of feeling only.

As we've said before, banks want and need your goodwill. No bank can get along without it. Telling the facts is probably the best method of winning it.

Intelligent people like plain talk. So in the talks to follow we shall be frank in giving you the facts about banks, bank ownership, bank operations, cash, currency, loans and interest. We would like you to read them all.

THE CHARTERED BANKS OF CANADA

Your local branch bank manager will be glad to talk banking with you. He will be glad to answer your questions, from the standpoint of his own experience. The next article in this series will appear in this newspaper. Watch for it.
