THE GIDDY GASOLINE

Cheerful Trip Yesterday Ended In Woeful Home-Coming.

The playful little ways of the frolicsome gasoline engine gave W. G. Humble of the Customs department a good time Sunday afternoon and evening, when he went forth on a launch trip with a friend. On the way home the engine got disgruntled and bucked. Then it gave up the ghost altogether and the trip ended in a row home with blistered hands and many anathemas. The party landed at 2 a. m., wet through.

To Inspect Mine.

G. R. Naden will leave this week on a trip to Alice Arm to inspect his valuable mining property there which is now being developed. When he left there two months ago Mr. Naden left a gang of men building cabins, etc., preparatory to shaft sinking with a view to drifting about this time to reach the ledge, which is a most promising one.

Herring Arrive.

Boats traversing the harbor in the latter part of last week—some cases the fish making the countered large herring shoals, in water "boil" with their rapid movements. The launch Red Maid has been netting for small herring for halibut bait.

The Color Line.

With the best of intentions the Government officials are finding it hard to employ white labor on the work of clearing the site of the burned Registry Office for the erection of the new building. As fast as the whitest of white labor tackles the work the worker becomes black as a Christy minstrel.

A SLAP FOR RUSSIA

Congress Abrogates the Trade Treaty as Protest.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Washington, Dec. 19.—President Taft yesterday abrogated the Russian trade treaty. It is expected that Congress will amend the resolution to make it less offensive to Russia, though the situation is delicate. The refusal of Russia to honor the passports of American Jews has caused the split.

THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

A BRAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Anna Godfrey Donned Men's Clothes to Support Children.

Mrs. Anna Godfrey of Chicago, 38 years old, wife of a bed-ridden husband and mother of four children, the youngest four years old, dressed in her husband's clothes, cut her hair and walked ten miles to get work as a farmhand. Eight hours after she left her alley cottage home she was found moaning and exhausted on a bench in fashionable Oak Park. Judge J. R. Caverly, before whom she was brought for masquerading in male attire, discharged her. "You are a brave woman," he said, "and deserve praise rather than punishment for your act."

"I was able to earn only a few dollars a week; that with the $2.50 my oldest boy earned barely kept us," said Mrs. Godfrey to the Judge. "Then I told my husband that something would have to be done. I decided to get a job on a truck farm, thinking that if I did well I could bring the family out and that would be better for the children than to stay in the alley. I didn't have a cent of money, so I started out to walk. For ten miles I went along, resting when my feet got sore and tired, and then starting out again."

WOMEN IN CHINA

They Are Starting to Share in the Revolution, Too.

If the women of Canada do not hurry up their sisters in China will beat them in the race for suffrage. Liberty thrives on liberty, and the women of China are following in the steps of their brother rebels. Several papers edited by Chinese women have lately been started. Mrs. Chang, the widow of the Chinese official, has for some years edited the Pekin Woman's Paper, devoted entirely to women's interests, the suffrage movement in England being a favorite topic. This industry, and are to be met with on their way to the factories, the markets or the fields with their babies strapped onto their backs. No work seems too rough or heavy for them to undertake.

Don't forget that you can find a complete line of Hand Bags, Suit Case Umbrellas with gold filled and sterling silver handles. Gray's Jewelry Store. Prices right.

NUT PUDDING

This Is One That Will Please the Men Folk.

Four ounces of flour, two ounces of dripping, two ounces of sugar, one stewed apple, half a teaspoonful of baking soda, juice of a lemon, two ounces each of currants and sultanas, an ounce each of ground almonds and walnuts, an egg, a little salt, a table-spoonful of gooseberry jam. Mix thoroughly, put in buttered basin and steam for three hours.

Crowded for room—must discontinue our toy department;
everything in toys, dolls, games,
etc., at cost. Wallace's.

TWO KITCHEN HINTS

Gems of Knowledge from the Best Housekeepers.

To Remove Grease from Kitchen Ranges—Dip a soft rag in turpentine and rub until grease disappears, the polish in ordinary way.

To Starch White Lawn and Muslin Blouses, Etc.—The best results are had by making hot water starch (thin), then adding two or three drops of gum arabic and stirring for a minute with an ordinary wax candle. Iron when nearly dry.

What Is Your Family Worth?

If your family is worth the best you can afford in house and food and clothes, is it not worth the best reading as well? And the best reading—best for boys and girls, best for men and women—

a power of observing conditions which would have been impossible for any ordinary Chinese lady.

The legal position of the Chinese woman is deplorable, and is one of the reasons why the movement for her greater freedom is making such rapid growth. She is subject to the three obediences
—to her father in her childhood,
to her husband after marriage
and to her son in her widowhood.
When a Chinaman has only daughters he says he has no children. A girl's parents dispose of her in marriage as they please—it has been hitherto the only career open to her—and she then becomes the property of her husband.

Though the women of the better classes rarely meet men outside their own immediate circle, they still exercise a great influence, and in one of the Chinese encyclopaedias 376 books out of 1,628 are devoted to famous women, and eleven chapters deal with their knowledge of literary works.

look long before you will find stories so varied and interesting; stories of coolness in the face of peril, strange adventures with creatures of the forest and the sea; moving stories of life's obscure heroisms; stories breezy with good-natured humor, quaint and curious character sketches.
