EUROPEAN DIPLOMACY

In view of recent changes, it is difficult to follow European diplomacy. With Great Britain and France now loosely tied to Germany and Italy, it is easy to understand how the Communists of France might precipitate a strike such as is going on. It is also easy to see that in the Orient there might be differences over the change of front. Japan, being tied up with Germany and Italy and opposed to Communism, it is not difficult to realize that Communist China might be inclined to break with Britain.

Canadian sympathies generally seem to have been with China in the Orient and with the government forces in Spain, although there are many who have opposite sympathies, especially in regard to the Spanish situation.

THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS

The world seems to be dividing into those favoring Communism and those opposed to it. The statement of Stalin that Russia is ringed about with enemies seems to be more or less true, except that Great Britain and France have shown no active enmity to the Soviets and certainly would not do so if the Comintern would mind its own business and not keep on boring from within as is being done in this and other countries.

Many of us in Canada feel a very great sympathy with the Russian people and would like to see them succeed under their chosen form of government were it not for the constant efforts of the Internationale to interfere in our own administration. That is the reason for the Padlock Law in Quebec. It may become the reason for restrictive measures in the United States and the present upheaval in France may possibly lead to the establishment of a dictatorship in that country.

THE LESSER EVIL

In view of these trends we shall view with great interest all international movements and note to what extent they conform with what we have outlined. It must be remembered that the dictatorship in Italy was set up at a time when Communism had a strong hold on the country and was destined to save Italy from a dictatorship of the proletariat. Hitler pushed himself to the fore to save Germany from Communism. Several other countries have had dictators forced upon them for similar reasons. There is a possibility of other countries following if Communism becomes too active.

It is curious that dictatorships have arisen because of Communism and yet in Russia, the home of Communism, a dictator had to whip the people into line to keep them from breaking away from Communism after a crude form of it had been established. Many lives have been taken in Russia in the effort to stamp out democracy and keep the dictatorship in power. The people of Russia, just like the people of Germany and Italy, do dare not express an opinion that is out of line with the opinion of the dictators. People who express opinions are liquidated.

A BOX OF BAD NEWS FOR BRITONS

You'd never guess from the tender, almost benign smile on the face of Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon, that the battered case he holds in his hand here as he left the treasury for the House of Parliament, contained bad news for Britain's millions. That is the famous and historic budget box, containing Sir John's recommendations for raising revenue in the coming year. This year, thanks to Britain's rearmament program, new taxes were imposed on Britons, among them an increase in income tax, bringing the total income levy of Englishmen up to more than 27 per cent.

EARLIER YEARS GAVE GEORGE NO TITLE TO HIGH PLACE

observation as heirs-apparent and it would appear Prince Albert was a bit eclipsed by David, as Edward was known in the royal family. "It was the elder boy's pranks during their visit to their indulgent grandparents which were noted by visitors to Sandringham," wrote one observer.

The late Lord Esher, governor of Windsor Castle and a close friend and confidant of the royal family, with an excellent opportunity of noting the characteristics of the two boys wrote in his diary in 1901: "The second boy is the sharpest but there is something rather lacking about Prince Edward."

Daughter of Scotland

Lady Elizabeth Bowes Lyon, as the Queen was first known, is the youngest daughter and the youngest child but one of 10 born to Sir Claude George and Lady Nina Bowes Lyon. Sir Claude in 1904 succeeded his father as the 14th Earl of Strathmore. At that time a Scottish barony it was in 1937 created the earldom of Strathmore and Kinghorne in the United Kingdom.

It has been pointed out both the King and Queen descended from Henry, VII, the first of the Tudor kings through his marriage with Elizabeth of York in 1486. The Queen's father traced his descent from Sir John Lyon of Forteviot, to whom Robert II of Scotland granted the lands and thanage of Glamis in Forfarshire.

The Queen, while properly a daughter of Scotland, in her early years saw far more of the placid scene of St. Paul's Waldenbury, Hertfordshire, England, than of Glamis with its rugged battlements and tragic story. Shakespeare placed the murder of Duncan by Macbeth at Glamis, though hard facts of history reduce it to a poetic legend.

During the Great War years Glamis was turned into a military hospital and Lady Elizabeth, her four brothers at the front, was a familiar figure around its great rooms.

"She had the loveliest pair of blue eyes I'd ever seen—very eloquent, expressive eyes that could speak for themselves," wrote a Gordon Highlander who was nursed back to health and strength at Glamis. "She had a very taking habit of knitting her forehead just a little now and then when speaking and her smile was a refreshment."

Incidentally, a portrait of Cleverhouse hanging in the old banqueting hall of Glamis is a reminder that Elizabeth's ancestors fought valiantly for the Scottish Covenant. Moreover portraits of the Stuart King are reminiscent of the days when the Queen's ancestors battled for the Jacobites against the English.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

November 26, 1913

Chief Walter Owen headed a party of six provincial police constables which left on this morning's train for Kitwanga enroute to the Kitwancool Valley where the Indians have been causing trouble for white surveyors, having driven some of them out of the valley.

Mrs. William Manson, Mrs. A. M. Manson, Mrs. T. McClymont and Mrs. J. M. Carmichael will be patronesses of the annual St. Andrew's ball of the St. Andrew's Society to be held this week.

PIGEON GHOST

THILSONBURG, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Thilsonburg's police station ghost has been caught. After two days of eerie sounds, police centred investigation on a stove-pipe and found a plump pigeon warming itself.

SOME DAYS TOO SOON

STRATFORD, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP)—Had it happened a few days later Len Sandev would have been all set for Halloween. Stovepipes in his kitchen collapsed and Sandev was smothered under a blanket of soot.

CONSOLIDATED MINING & SMELTING COMPANY OPERATIONS, 1937-38

- Employment during 1937 averaged 6,926 men.
- Wages paid in 1937 amounted to $11,600,000.
- Materials purchased amounted to $9,725,000.
- Reserves of the company are not all in cash, but are represented largely by properties in various stages of development, employing hundreds of men.
- Expansion of the company has continued in 1938.

The latest important development is the commencement of a 50,000 horsepower hydro electric installation on Kootenay River, under direction of Lorne Campbell, Vice-President of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company (a subsidiary of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company) at an estimated cost of 3 1/2 millions.

Inquiry About Local Elevator

Dr. Lyle Telford, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East asked a few days ago in the Legislature if the Minister of Trade and Industry had any knowledge of wheat being shipped this crop year to the elevator at Prince Rupert. The minister, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, replied that no grain had been shipped this year to the Prince Rupert elevator.
