Detail Matters At Museum Meeting In City Hall Last Night

It was reported at the month'y meeting of the Museum Board last night that the boulder in the Totem Park had been fenced and flowers planted around it. All that remained was to have the history of the petroglyphs printed and framed so that visitors would know what it was all about. The City! Commissioner had prepared the ground for the little garden. Alfred Bayne had donated the plants and Dr. J. T. Mandy and Dr. Neal Carter had planted the seedlings.

It was also reported that a scroll containing a list of life members of the Association had been framed and hung in the museum.

The custodian reported that 78 visitors had been reported at the museum during the month. One of these was D. C. Stevenson, a well! known collector of curios and objects of art. He said the local collection was one of the most interesting he had seen.

It was reported that a set of whales ear drums donated through tation was normal or better in all nipeg; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wright, the good offices of George Cripps was unique in that it was a perfect set, something that was not often secured and which other museums had been trying to get.
