ALL ARE PREPARED

Evidently, if it is to be war, the allied countries—Czechoslovakia, France, Britain and Russia—are well prepared not only to resist invasion but to carry the war into the enemy's country. Yesterday was a day of perplexed waiting with no country really wanting war except perhaps Germany and we do not think the Germans, as a people, really want to fight.

It is a curious situation. Possibly never in the world had there been such a spectacular and calm waiting for fighting to commence. It seems a pity that some country cannot carry out the ancient motto that the best defence is attack. It would be a surprise to Hitler if Czechoslovakian troops were to commence marching into Germany. The Germans would be inclined to think it was a surrender.

Never in the world has it been possible for one man to dare the rest of the world, to threaten them and to leave it possible for no war to take place. In former days the British would not have waited until now.

But these are different days. Neither British, French or Russians are today bloodthirsty. They know that, if and when they win, as they expect to do if war is forced on them, they will return with gaps in their ranks and with losses so great that the cost of the war will have been terrible. Yet the madman of Europe has to be stopped. He should have been stopped before, but so strong was the wish for peace that the powers held back. Today it is felt that, if they step aside now, it will be only for a brief period and that, for every inch they give, Hitler will take a mile. They must fight some day so it appears better to do so now.

THE NEW LEADER

The new leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, R. L. Maitland K.C. of Vancouver, fulfills Vancouver's greatest wish, that of having its own man in a leading position in the capital city with the possibility of his becoming head of the administration some day.

Mr. Maitland is an able lawyer and a good speaker. He is already a member of the Legislature and is known to many people in Prince Rupert who have heard him speak more than one occasion.

The position he takes is one of great importance. He is supposed to help the government in its duties by acting as its chief critic. For this he will be paid a handsome sum, if he retains the position.

As the Conservatives now have only the same number of members in the Legislature as the C.C.F. and the latter party had a larger total vote at the election it is just possible that the leader of the C.C.F. may become the chief critic of the government and draw the salary instead of Mr. Maitland. Against that action is the fact that there is an independent, R. W. Bruhn, member for Salmon Arm, a former member of a Conservative government sitting in the Legislature. If he is looked upon as a Conservative member, then Mr. Maitland still has a majority. It matters very little to the people of the province generally who is opposition leader. The C.C.F. members are sure to be heard during the coming session.

It was with a feeling of relief this morning that local people heard that another conference was to be held and that there was yet a possibility that there might be no war.

BADMINTON CLUB MEET

Last evening the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Max Heilbronner. The president, Harry Ward, was in the chair and acting secretary was Percy McIntosh. The election of officers took place, resulting as follows:

MOMENTOUS CONFERENCE OF FOUR POWERS

Roosevelt Appeals Again
President Roosevelt of the United States directed further appeals yesterday to Chancellor Hitler of Germany and President Benes of Czechoslovakia as well as Great Britain and France to bend every effort to reach a peaceful settlement of differences by negotiation and avert a way which would seem "unnecessary and unjustifiable." He referred to the grave responsibility of precipitating such a war and expressed the belief that there should be some means of fair adjustment. He suggested further that peaceful negotiations might be extended into a general conference to bring about a better understanding among the nations generally.

At the same time as President Roosevelt was sending out his appeals for peace, the United States cabinet was in emergency session at Washington last night. Arrangements were being made to use the Navy, if necessary, for the evacuation of Americans from European countries in the event of war. With all available space in transatlantic ships up to October 15, the possibility loomed of there being insufficient accommodation to take care of all.

Poland Eliminated
Meantime from Warsaw, the capital of Poland, came the important announcement that an agreement had been reached with President Benes of Czechoslovakia for a peaceful and satisfactory settlement of Poland's minority demands which would remove Poland as an active participant in any war against Czechoslovakia. Benes had agreed, it was announced, to a territorial revision in satisfaction of Polish claims. There were indications that Hungary also planned to remain neutral.

British Cabinet Meets
The British cabinet was in session again last night following the return of Sir Horace Wilson, personal advisor of Premier Chamberlain from Germany where he had had another conference with Chancellor Hitler. There was no announcement as to what Hitler had said to Wilson but the move towards further mobilization of further fighting forces which immediately followed was regarded as significant that Der Fuehrer had failed to show any signs of yielding. There was no definite indication as to how Hitler would enforce his demands on Czechoslovakia.

Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy declared last night that there seemed to be no hope of peace and that Italy was proceeding with preparations to actively support Germany.

Details of Address
Addressing Parliament, Chamberlain said that Hitler had raised the question of self-determination at Berchtesgaden for the first time and this was the reason why he (Chamberlain) had returned to London for the consent of the government and of France and Czechoslovakia on this issue. Hitler had promised he would refrain from hostilities until the answer was known and a second meeting at Godesberg arranged. "Looking back," Chamberlain said "I have no doubt that my visit alone prevented an invasion for which everything was ready."

Then the Prime Minister explained how he had obtained agreement of the cabinet and the French government to Hitler's demands and had informed Czechoslovakia of the Anglo-French agreement.

"It was a profound shock to me when Hitler said he could not accept this because the proposals were too dilatory and offered too many opportunities for further evasion."

Hitler had insisted on a speedy solution. "I bitterly reproached the Chancellor," continued Chamberlain "for his failure to respect in any way the efforts I had made to secure peace."

The Commercial League, starting Monday, will be made up of eight teams, probably as follows: Royal Lunch, Biological Station, Rupert Motors, Parker's Garage, Canadian Legion, Electrical Workers, Gyro Club and North Star.

Greenberg Approaching Ruth Record For Home Runs—Chicago Closes Up On Pittsburg

DETROIT, Sept. 28: (CP)—Hank Greenberg poked out two more home runs—his fifty-seventh and fifty-eighth of the season—yesterday as Detroit Tigers took both ends of a double-header from the St. Louis Browns here.
