FIRMNESS POLICY SUCCEEDS

"The change in temper of the British government, evidence of which has been accumulating since the critical week-end of May 21, when apparently the threat of British intervention effectively stopped the invasion of Czechoslovakia by the German army, must be regarded as a most promising token of prolonging the present period of uneasy peace," says the Winnipeg Free Press in a recent number.

"The long and devastating period of uncertainty when Great Britain did nothing to check the arrogant gestures of Tokio and of the dictators of the Rome-Berlin axis appears to be drawing to a close, if it has not already definitely ended. It seems apparent that the policy of firmness advocated by Mr. Eden when he left the government last February is new in process of adoption, and that the policy of retreat and weakness, cloaked as conciliation and appeasement is to be abandoned.

"It all this is so, those who have the real interests of peace at heart, and who hope some day to see re-established the principles of the Covenant of the League of Nations, will be truly delighted. Meanwhile the present evidence permits a moderate degree of optimism. The Economist, for instance, points out that peace has so far been preserved: 'This reflection will not satisfy those who believe that the only way of maintaining peace is stoutly to defend certain principles of international dealing and to resist aggression wherever it may arise. But these, too, may find some comfort in recent events.' This periodical concludes its survey with the comment that there has been unquestionably revealed a slight move by Mr. Chamberlain towards the viewpoint of those who have consistently criticized the policy of acquiescence:

"If this really is the trend of the Prime Minister's mind, we may yet find that today's lull does not mean that we are in the calm centre of the hurricane, but that we are actually sailing into smooth seas."

THE WILL OF THE DICTATORS

Russia has completed the compilation of its census returns and is not pleased with the result. In fact so displeased are Stalin and his friends that they have decided not to publish the figures. According to the report they show a very decided decrease in population so another census is to be taken next year in which the census officials must show an increase.

Another thing the Stalinists do not like in the census returns is that too many of the people list themselves as professing some kind of religion. They have to be instructed before the next census is taken. The "gang of wreckers" who took the first census were too honest to do the job again so they have been disposed of. It seems that even census figures must bow to the will of the dictators.

PRACTICE FOOTBALL

OCEAN FALLS, August 25—A Probables vs Possibles football match was played Sunday, the former winning 9-2. The selectors are still trying to strengthen the team to meet Prince Rupert. Although the Northern B. C. Championship cup had been at the Falls for almost twenty years the boys are bent on retaining it for several more years to come. H. Gilchrist had the misfortune to break his leg in the game. Almost assured of a place on the Rep team it is a tough break for Harry.

Should the players be able to transfer to the C.P.R. Prince Rupert softball fans would be able to see some Ocean Falls talent in action as the soccer squad includes a pretty snappy team in their line line up. Arrangements to play a local team could no doubt be made on arrival.

With the Paper Makers playing the best out of three games against General Store, the winners are to play the Sawmill in the final. First game was won by Paper Makers 100, L. Simpson, on the mound for the winners, pitching a bang-up game.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, Capt. Neil McLean, is due in port at 8 o'clock this evening from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands and will be here until 10:30 Saturday night when she sails on her return south over the same route.
