WOULD SUPPORT NEILL

The Liberals of Comox-Alberni have promised their support to A. W. Neill if he will consent to be a candidate for re-election. He had announced his intention of retiring at the close of the present parliament but his constituents evidently would like him to continue. The difficulty is the strain of an election campaign which Mr. Neill feels would be too great for his health.

We mention all this to show that Mr. Neill, an independent in politics, is a wanted man. He has fought fearlessly for what he thought was right and his efforts have been appreciated. He was a man who could say "no" when he did not agree and he is a man who can support anything he thinks right, irrespective of party strings. It is to be hoped that the services of Mr. Neill will not be lost to the country but that he may be induced to continue to represent his constituency.

GREAT AMERICANS

During a recent trial in the United States courts, a witness, who was formerly a storm trooper in Germany, joined the German-American Bund, the form of ceremony being that he and the others joining at the time, raised the right hand in the Nazi salute and took the following oath:

I pledge faith to my leader, Adolf Hitler. I promise Adolf Hitler and those put in charge by him and well-known to me or by means of insignia to be recognized as superiors, loyalty and obedience and oblige myself to execute all commands carefully and without personal regard, because I know that my leader does not ask anything unlawful of me.

It is said that there are nearly half a million members of the Bund who have taken the oath in the United States.

CALIFORNIA ALSO

British Columbia is not the only place on this continent that is suffering from having too pleasant a climate. California is complaining bitterly that it is being impoverished from the number of indigents who come to that state from other parts of the country, hoping to get employment and induced by the fact that, if out of work, life will not be so difficult as in the more rigorous climates. An attempt is being made to have indigents kept out of California.

LITTLE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The British Empire is a little league of nations and may possibly prove a model for a greater league later. That is the opinion of Malcolm MacDonald, one of His Majesty's ministers at London.

If the little league is to be a success it must hold together as a unit and not bolt the Empire just because it happens to dislike its policy for the time being. It was failure to live up to its obligations that caused the fall of the League of Nations and, if Canada or any other Empire country fails to live up to its obligations, success cannot be attained by the British Empire. We cannot expect to have all the benefits and take none of the responsibilities.

Prince Rupert Soccerites Beat H.M.S. York So Hanson Trophy Is Kept At Home For Another Year

After a scoreless first half in the second of the two game series between H.M.S. York and Prince Rupert for the Hanson Football Trophy, five goals were registered in the second half and, with Prince Rupert claiming four of these to the York's one, the local team retained possession of the cup. York had won the first game on Saturday, 5 to 3.

The first half was rather quiet with the Navy having the better of the exchanges. Morgan was safe and saved, well from Gould. Longbone was always dangerous, his ball control and placing always being a source of danger. Eveleigh did well to save Cameron's high centre. Davies blocked a hard drive by Tong who later had luck with a grand header from two shots away from Lakeland and Gould. Norman stopped Dickens. Rupert got the ball in the net but it was clearly offside. Murray cleared off Gould's toe. Cameron hit the upright.

York pressed from the kick-off and Gould hit the crossbar with Morgan beaten. Tong hit the upright. Then Gould headed the first goal from Lakeland's corner. Morgan saved grandly from Longbone. Then the local eleven took a new lease of life and, following Cameron's center, McMeekin equalized from Armstrong's pass. McMeekin added a second and, after nice combination, Dickens, scored a third. Murray saved an awkward situation and Ronalds headed off the goaline. McMeekin added a fourth after Smith and Cameron combined well. Morgan stopped a terrific drive at full length and then threw clear while on the ground. Excitement was at fever pitch and Gould and Longbone tried hard but Davies and Murray cleared. Morgan fisted away two corners well taken by Lakeland. Dickens got a fifth but it was disallowed. A thrilling second half found the local team worthy winners.

The team to represent the Canadian Legion against the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve in football this evening will be chosen from the following players: Pierce, W. Murray, J. Currie, J. Currie (jr.), Howe, Scherk, Simundsen, Alan Smith, St. Denis, Baptie, Comadina, Sam Currie, W. Vance, Rol Judge, J. Bremner.

QUEEN MARIE PLAYED PROMINENT PART

greater influence than did Queen Marie during the reign of her husband, King Ferdinand. Her great interest in her adopted country and its development began when she took up her residence in Rumania after her marriage to Ferdinand when he was still a prince.

It was during the World War. However, and the troublesome years after the conflict that Queen Marie by her conspicuous activities attained international prominence. Ferdinand, who had been a prince of the house of Hohenzollern, ascended the Rumanian throne in 1914. His queen was a former princess royal of Great Britain.

At the outbreak of the Great War, the king announced that Rumania would remain neutral unless attacked but his government's sympathy in the conflict was indicated when the king was shouted down during a speech from the throne in November, 1915.

Early in the next year the former Kaiser sent a note to King Ferdinand declaring his intention to send a special envoy to Rumania relative to the latter's position in the war. A few days later Rumania entered the conflict on the side of the Allies by declaring war against Austria. That decision was said to have been influenced by Queen Marie.

After two years of fighting, two-thirds of Roumania was overrun by the enemy. The country, cut off from outside aid, was forced to accept drastic peace terms sent by Germany with an ultimatum that they be accepted in 24 hours. Queen Marie insisted that she would never recognize the treaty that had been forced upon her country and immediately took the lead in a movement to have Rumania re-enter the war on the side of the Allies. With the collapse of the German army on the western front a few months later, the treaty that forced Rumania out of the war became ineffective.

During the war the queen was active in relief work among her people and also served as a Red Cross nurse in the war area.

Born in England

Queen Marie was born at Eastwell Park, Kent, England, October 29, 1875. Her father, the second son of Queen Victoria, was Alfred, Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and Duke of Edinburgh. Her mother was the Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovna, only daughter of Alexander II, Czar of Russia. Marie was married to Ferdinand in 1893. They had six children of whom Prince Mircea, the youngest, died in childhood. The others were: Prince Carol, born in 1893, who married Princess Helen of Greece; Princess Elizabeth, born in 1894, who became the wife of former King George of Greece; Princess Marie, born in 1899, who married King Alexander of Jugoslavia;

Prince Nicholas, born in 1903, who eloped with Mme. Jana Lucila Dely, a Rumanian commoner, and Princess Ileana, who married Archduke Anton of Austria.

Although Ferdinand and Marie ascended the thrones of Roumania in 1914, their coronation was delayed because of the World War and post-war conditions in the country until October, 1922. King Ferdinand died July 20, 1927.

In October of the previous year Queen Marie, accompanied by Prince Nicholas and Princess Ileana, came to the United States and during a five weeks' stay made a tour of many of the principal cities. The royal party was received enthusiastically everywhere and at the White House President and Mrs. Coolidge gave a state dinner for them. They sailed for home November 23, their visit somewhat abbreviated because of the illness of King Ferdinand.

Queen Marie spoke English, French, German, Roumanian and some Russian. She was an accomplished painter and pyrographer, an expert in the cultivation of flowers and was intensely interested in music and literature.

First New York Guest At Jasper Park Returning

JASPER, July 19.—Perhaps the noted trail rider derived the idea from climbing into elevators of New York skyscrapers and down non-stop flights to the top story for Warner Jones, who already boasts that the sharp hocks of his mountain pony have climbed off more than four thousand miles along the skyline of Jasper National Park, is on his way back to the saddle.

Warner Jones was the first New York visitor ever to register at Jasper Park Lodge. That was years ago. Since then every new trail has found him hastening westward. He will arrive this week to rush among the first to ride the new Overhead Route from Maligne Lake to the famous Columbia Icefield.
