THE BRITISH POLITICAL SITUATION

There was nothing unexpected or particularly thrilling in the speech of Adolf Hitler on Sunday. It was the sort of thing everyone thought would be coming from that source. The sensation of the day was in the resignation of Anthony Eden as British foreign minister and the announcement that the British government was contemplating a tentative arrangement with Italy for the withdrawal of Italian troops from Spain.

It came as quite a blow to many people to hear that the British foreign minister in whom they placed so much confidence had withdrawn from the government after a definite split with Prime Minister Chamberlain. It came at an unfortunate time just when Chancellor Hitler had denounced him to the world as the one person in the way of a possible rapprochement.

DIFFERING VIEWPOINTS

Evidently Secretary Eden, as a good democrat, had felt like a great many others felt that the Spanish people had a right to any kind of government they wished as long as a majority of the people of the country were in favor of it.

Premier Mussolini does not believe in majorities and sees no virtue in them. He knows, as we all know, that majorities are often wrong. He pins his faith rather in rule by those who have the ability to rule. He sees in the Red movement in Spain a movement fomented from Russia with the idea of adding another Red state to Europe, a state that would be practically subsidiary to Russia and wholly under Russian control. Believing this, Il Duce thinks any means of preventing the alienation of Spain to Russia are justifiable.

Throughout the struggle in Spain Canadian people have looked on with varying emotions. They disliked the Fascist movement and, therefore, disliked to see it spread to Spain. The only people in Canada who seemed to be wholeheartedly with the Spanish Red movement were the Communists and near Communists in Canada who subscribed to the funds to aid the government of Spain against the Fascists and a few of whom crossed to Spain and took part in the struggle against General Franco.

Anthony Eden is not a Communist or a Socialist but he thought the people of Spain had a right to be Communist if they wished. That seems to be to a large extent the attitude of the British Labor Party and a considerable section of the Liberal party.

Many will be interested now to see whether Eden continues to support the government or aligns himself with some other group or possibly, like the illustrious Churchill, plays a lone hand for a period.

We can hardly expect that Anthony Eden will be permanently out of the limelight. He has been so prominent a figure in world affairs that he is bound to make his influence felt both in the British Parliament and in the affairs of the Empire. He will be needed.

Synopsis of Land Ad

PRE-EMPTIONS

VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning Pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands Victoria, B.C.; Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre west of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emptions carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 10 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under grazing regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
