FINDING A SOLUTION

The decisions arrived at by the convention of the Conservative Party at Ottawa now in session are of great importance to the people of Canada, no matter of what political faith. All other parties will be influenced by what the Conservatives decide to do. It may be that the Conservative Party is the one destined to solve the grave problems of unemployment and distribution which have been the chief cause of the rise of new parties.

Only a few years ago the Conservatives swept the country and were elected to power by a considerable majority. At any time the people may decide to repeat that action. Nothing is so uncertain as the electorate. Even if the Conservatives are not again entrusted with the confidence of the electors, the party remains a very important one and may have a very good or very bad effect in deciding the policies of others.

Complaint has often been made that the Liberals are too conservative in their policies. That complaint is to a certain extent justified. People expected great things from the Mackenzie King Government and, so far, little has been done except to adopt the conservative policy of sitting tight and adjusting the finances of the country. Good work has been done in getting very close to balancing the budget but, in the meantime, there are many men out of work, looking for encouragement from the federal administration. Balancing the budget does not interest men who cannot get remunerative employment although it is a step toward making the employment of all possible. Perhaps the Conservatives will be the people who will show the country the way out.

MUST GIVE AND TAKE

The Conservative Party is finding, just as did the Liberals, that the views of the Quebec people differ from those of the average English-speaking people and that, in co-operating with them, it is necessary to make allowance for differences of race and religion and to be willing to give and take in formulating a policy for all parts of the country.

Nearly one-third of the population of Canada is of French extraction and must receive consideration from all political parties if the country is ever to be welded into a unified nation.

ANOTHER NEW MEDICINE

Much credit is due the two local men, Dr. R. G. Large and Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, for their valuable work in connection with a cure for diabetes. It is said that remarkable results have been obtained from a medicine taken from the root of the devil's club, well known to those who wander through the woods of any part of British Columbia's coast area. Through this work these men so well known to us all may become internationally known just as did the discoverer of insulin. We congratulate both the medical man and the scientist on their success.

VANDERMEER Cause Of Michel Mine Explosion Is Being Sought

CINCINNATI, July 7.—Pitching of Cincinnati's new wonder hurler, Johnny Vandermeer, was the feature of yesterday's inter-league all star game which the National League won four to one from the American, making the second win for the senior circuit in the six years since these games have been played. Vandermeer completely baffled the heavy guns of the American League and made only thirty-one pitches in the three innings he occupied the mound. Twenty-eight thousand fans watched the game.

A softball game between married men and married women caused much amusement to the spectators who included visitors from Smithers, Colleymount, Round Hill, Tchessinuk, Francois Lake and many points. The score was 9 to 7 in favor of the ladies. Sale of hot dogs and ice cream was very popular.

Welcome showers did not spoil the fun.

WHY MANION FINE YACHT IS FAVORED

Fort William Doctor Looked Upon As Conservative Compromise

Madie II Owned by Jack Powers Of Seattle Much Admired At Yacht Club

While the fact that Hon. R. J. Manion is better fitted than any other prominent Conservative in the Federal field to make electoral progress in the Province of Quebec is an important point in his favor, it is by no means the only asset which makes him the odds on favorite to be chosen to succeed Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett by the big convention at Ottawa this week, says Quebec Chronicle Telegraph.

To begin with, Dr. Manion has a congenial, democratic disposition that makes lasting friendships for him in all walks of life. This is a quality that no Conservative leader has possessed since the days of Sir John A. Macdonald. Tupper, Borden, Meighen, Bennett they have all been reserved and austere. Conservatism is always liable to suspicion of being synonymous with the classes, and it takes a Macdonald or a Manion to make it popular with the rank and file who decide elections.

As a medical man, the former minister has natural political strength, enhanced by his wide acquaintances and universal popularity as a returned man. Having been prominent in public life for nearly twenty years, he is known and possesses valuable political connections in all parts of the Dominion from coast to coast; in addition to which he has a ripe parliamentary and administrative experience having sat on the front benches in charge of three different portfolios. In 1921 he was minister of Soldiers' civil re-establishment, in 1926 Postmaster General and in 1930 minister of railways and canals. Being uncommitted to any group or faction he is in a position to reunite and consolidate all constructive elements in the Conservative Party.

Rest of Field
Mr. Bennett being definitely out of the field, the only man whose name has been mentioned as a prospect who can begin to compare with Dr. Manion in all-round qualifications is Hon. H. H. Stevens and he has yet to reinstate himself as a Conservative. The other prospects who have been in public life are all comparative newcomers.

Lovers of fine looking yachts were much interested today in the Maidie II tied up at the floats of the Prince Rupert Yacht Club while the owner, Jack Powers of Seattle and his guests Frank Easter, Olaf Caskin, B. Finley, Murray Unahill and Frank Seidelhuber, all Rotarians, visited the city. They all attended the Rotary luncheon this afternoon.

The party came north on a fishing trip. They had a very enjoyable run this far and plan to commence fishing as they go south, leaving about eight o'clock this evening.

The Maidie II is a streamlined craft 49 feet long and with a 12-foot beam. Her engine is a 29 Kermath which can drive her at about sixteen knots although her cruising speed is ten knots. Maidie II was the boat that won the cruise race from Seattle to Prince Rupert ten years ago.

known chiefly in their native Ontario and with practically blank records of accomplishment. Of them all, the man who is being "pushed" the most actively is Hon. J. Earl Lawson—unfortunately for himself the chief party organiser who must accept responsibility as such for the Conservative debacle in 1935. Also spoken of are seven men who have never been in public life and who are known only if still more limited circles.

In a word, if a careful scrutiny is made of all the leadership prospects it will be found that Dr. Manion is easily the most popular because he has more experience, is more widely known and has more varied contacts than the rest put together. If the good of the party were the sole consideration there would be no opposition to him as we believe that the delegates in the coming convention are sufficiently desirous of rehabilitating Conservatism as a national party to say by their votes in no uncertain terms that Manion is the man for the job.
