LOOKING TO GOVERNMENTS

In discussing with Brigadier Stewart the work that the Dominion government is to do at Prince Rupert, it accrued to us that most of the improvements in the city have come from governments. Our docks, elevator, dry dock and shipyard, and, more recently, the fine new federal building have all been built at the public expense by departments of the federal government. There have been numerous other benefits obtained of late through the good offices of the local member, Olof Hanson.

From the provincial government we have the Court House and one of the docks including some of the fish houses.

In addition to that we are looking to the federal government for a steamship subsidy and we are asking them to operate the local elevator. The member for the district says he is confident that the elevator will be operated during the present crop year and he is very hopeful that we shall get the subsidy. On the whole our representatives in parliament have done pretty well for us, probably better than the representatives of any other riding in Canada.

We are now looking to the provincial government for the building of a highway. It is a big undertaking and, doubtless, will be built within the next few years. In the meantime it is up to us to press for these things so that we may get them at as early a date as possible. We do this, not in any hostile spirit, but because we think they should be carried out. We have to bring all the pressure possible to bear on both Dominion and provincial authorities and, doubtless, shall continue to do so until we get what we are after.

Prince Rupert has usually been on very friendly terms with the various administrations. By remaining that way we are likely to get what we ask for. We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by keeping on friendly terms with all the powers that be. The day is past when we can expect to gain by using the pistol of the highwayman.

In saying this we do not want to be misunderstood. There is to be no weakening in our efforts to secure the needed improvements for which we ask. At the same time it is sometimes wise for us to remember that we have already received a great deal and it is said that we are to have a great deal more in connection with a projected air base. We also can secure a great deal of help from the provincial government in connection with the projected pulp mill industry. It is the co-operation of the government at Victoria through our local member that make the proposal interesting to financiers.

PRESENT NEED

What we need more than anything from our governments immediately is the steamship subsidy and the operation of the elevator. Probably these go together. From the provincial government we want highway construction but it must also be remembered that every other constituency in Canada is asking for highway construction and highway improvement. So far, the main trans-Canada highway in the south with all the political pressure of a large population behind it has not yet been completed. When it is through there will be more chance for our section to receive attention.

The probability is that the highway to Alaska will be constructed soon. The financing of this promises to be comparatively easy. If the same terms could be applied to the Prince Rupert section there would be no delay in getting it through. The construction of this highway should be of great benefit to Prince Rupert and, especially so, when our own section is completed. In the meantime, we must keep up the pressure and use every means in our power to forward the project.

TWEEDSMUIR GIVES A BOOST TO JUNIOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

With a friendly greeting and a pleasant reassuring smile for an audience which consisted of English, French, Greek and Chinese children, Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, inaugurated the Junior Red Cross Callendar campaign to raise funds for the hospitalization of sick and crippled children. His excellency is president of the Canadian Red Cross Society and his visitors here are junior Red Cross members from the intermediate school at Hull, P.Q. Mr. N. A. Todd, their principal is at the right.

At Massett

New Restaurant and Rooming House Being ERECTED For Dave Ruttan—Community Club Also Building

The village of Massett is being steadily improved according to visitors to the city from Queen Charlotte Islands. A new restaurant and rooming house is being built for Dave Ruttan with Howard Phillips, who recently arrived from Nootka, Vancouver Island, in charge of construction.

Work has also been started on the erection of a new community club building for which Dr. J. C. S. Dunn has presented a special section to be known as the John Dunn Memorial in honor of his son who died a few months ago.

The Naden Cannery has closed down for the winter and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simpson came to Prince Rupert on the Prince John last night and proceeded south on the Prince George.

Linen, No. 131.

Table cloth, won by Sverre Andersen, No. 298.

PAY VISIT TO LEGION

Brigadier J. C. Stewart and Col. Fort Well Pleased With Ex-Service Body

many members would be of great value even though their average age of forty-eight years as compared with the average age during the war of twenty-six would prevent most of them from taking part in the actual hostilities.

Both Brigadier Stewart and Colonel Fort were glad to exchange reminiscences with the members Captain A. G. Rix of the 10th Heavy Battery accompanied them the party being welcomed by President Jack Preece, Vice-President M. Brown and J. S. Wilson.

In port yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah. Capt. William Palmer, on board a total of 154 passengers of whom six disembarked here. Only one took passage from the port for Vancouver on the Princess Norah.

E. R. Walter, well known pioneer gardener of Massett, whose place at Delkata is one of the show spots of that part in summer, is paying a brief visit to the city. The Canadian Legion was in a particularly strong position to assist returning home on the same evening from the Islands and will be returning home on the same vessel tonight.
