Now Is No Time To Risk Peace By Offending Japanese Says Premier King Before House

OTTAWA, February 18: (CP)—This is no time for Canada to risk offending Oriental pride and dignity by passing an exclusion law against the Japenese, Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King warned the House last night. International affairs were bad enough, particularly in the Orient, without Canada adding fuel to a fire that might strike back not only against the Dominion but the British Empire as a whole.

The Prime Minister made his statement before adjourning the debate on a bill sponsored by A. W. Neill, Independent member for Comox-Alberni, which would have amounted to immigration exclusion against the Japanese by placing them on parity with the Chinese.

Mr. King agreed with British Columbia members supporting the bill that a serious situation existed in the Pacific Coast province because of Japanese immigration with consequent unfair competition against white Canadians resulting from conflicting standards of living.

The Liberals' resolution, urging that the constitution should be utilized to India's best advantage especially for accelerating progress towards dominion status, was moved by the noted Madras leader, V. S. Srinivasa Sastri, once Indian agent

He mentioned his former fears, not wholly dispelled, that the federal scheme might destroy the possibility of India's achieving dominion status, a fear based, for one thing, on the princes' insistence that their connection with the efforts to control an epidemic of smallpox here. ### Liberals Broke Away

Liberals seceded from the Indian National Congress in 1918, when it was captured by the extremists, and formed the present Federation under the presidency of the famous Bengal leader, Sir Surendranath Banerjea.

In 1921 the British government instituted the Montagu Chelmsford Reforms under which certain departments of provincial governments were transferred to India ministers. The congress refused to take office and boycotted the elections. This gave the Liberals their chance. They worked the reforms, VICTORIA, Feb. 18: (CP)-A sur- provided executive councillors and
