WAR OR BLUFF?

Tuesday, September 27, 1938

DAILY EDITION

Again we face another period of uncertainty. Everyone is talking and thinking war but Chancellor Hitler did in the way in which it fights. not mention war in his speech at Berlin yesterday. Prime Minister Chamberlain is making frantic efforts to preserve the peace and, at the same time, to be fully and immediately prepared in case Hitler decides to start the fighting.

It seems a curious line-up for Great Britain, France and Russia to be in the same camp, fighting for the same cause, determined to stop the madman of Europe from running amok and dominating the world with a bloody sword. It is a force before which any sane man would hesitate and evidently Hitler is hesitating. With all his war preparations he cannot hope to win in the long run against such odds. Admitting that the Germans are good fighters, they are not any better than any of their foes and it takes more than men to win wars in these days.

COUNTING THE COST

ground. It was all carried on outside of their own territory. On this occasion if there is were the fighting is tory. On this occasion, if there is war, the fighting is likely to be carried right to the heart of the Empire. Berlin itself is likely to suffer war depradations for it is not very far from the frontiers where the fighting will be (CP)-A seaman on shore leave forced across the borders.

It is a horrible thing to contemplate that the nations could line up and destroy each other just because a fanatic wants to flaunt his greatness before the world. His treachery brought about the subjugation of Austria and been granted leave. once more he has tried how treachery would work in his dealings with the Czechoslovaks and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain but he has met his match. Evidently, nothing that he can say or do will excuse his perfidy. This is realized fully by Britain, France and Russia.

Possibly before this gets into print the Germans will have started to cross the terrritorial line into Czechoslovakia, if so it means the commencement of a world conflagration such as has not yet been seen. And yet we still have a feeling that there may not be war just now. We feel that it may be another of Hitler's bluffs.
