WHY KNOCK HOME TOWN?

There are in Prince Rupert plenty of well meaning Valhalla Picnic people who are always ready to knock their home town. They see little good in it and almost invariably exagger- Greatly Enjoyed ate anything that is not favorable. For instance, if the price of fish should be found to be half a cent less than last year they talk about the bottom having dropped out | Happy Outing Held on Lucy Island Yesterday of the fish market. The moment business is a little quiet it is immediately "the quietest we have ever known." When it rained recently they grumbled about it and told Valhalla Lodge held its annual picof the hardship of living in a place where it rains all the about fifty members and friends time when at the same time the interior was so hot that present. May we suggest to all including ourselves that, it there is nothing good to say about the home town, then i' is better to be silent. It is usually the person who is not succeeding well in his business who knocks the town. It end of sixth). is bad for the town and bad for the knocker's own business to be always looking for the weak spots.

GET TOGETHER MORE OFTEN

In order that there may be closer friendship and improved business relationship between people of Central British Columbia and Prince Rupert, it is very desirable that they meet often and learn to know each other. There is to be a big day at Terrace on July 1 and a still bigger event at Smithers on or about August 5. Those will be very suitable occasions for meeting interior people. Very phia at Chicago, rained out. soon we may expect an excursion to Prince Rupert from interior points and, doubtless, there will be many visitors come to the city.

SCHOOL CHANGES

Owing to the proposed reorganization of the city schools, made necessary in connection with the establishment of the Junior High School at the Booth Memorial building, the staff at Booth School will be changed this year, the teachers taking positions in the other schools. Doubtless, these teachers will view with regret their departure from the institution where they must feel that they have done excellent work for the city and where their influence has been so excellent. Happily, the opportunities for continuing the work in the other schools will be just as great and the city will not be the loser. Changes are bound to come from time to time and sometimes readjustments make for improvement. Prince Rupert must keep in line with other cities in such matters as junior high schools and curriculum adjustments. The new system is the one recommended by experienced teachers and Inspector Morrison will, doubtless, see that the accomodation for junior pupils is adequate and proper and the rearrangement plan carried out in the interests of all the pupils.

WHO OWNS CANADA'S BANKS?

Who are the owners and what do they do?

TIM BROWN, carpenter-your next-door neigh-J bour-may be one of the supposed "Big Shots" who own the banks in Canada. He may own a couple of shares, or maybe only one.

Women, executors or trustees of estates, and retired people, comprise about 63 per cent. of the shareholders in one of Canada's banks, taken an example.

Analysis of this particular bank, which may be regarded as typical, shows that women own nearly half of its shares. Farmers, merchants and professional men are the most numerous of the classes listed.

There are 260 occupations represented among the shareholders. They include:

Accountants, actors, barbers, bankers, bee-keepers, boat-builders, bricklayers, carpenters, cheesemakers, clergymen, dairymen, dentists, doctors, drovers, druggists, farmers, fishermen, forest rangers, funeral directors, grocers, insurance agents, jailers, journalists, linotypists, lobster buyers, miners, oil operators, plumbers, policemen, railway employees, ranchers, sailors, scalers, sheriffs, stenographers, stevedores, timber cruisers, tobacco farmers, trappers, and others. These are among the folks who own the banks and so must be a part of that bogey with which some people seek to scare you-that fabled "international bankers' ring". They are mostly Canadians—your fellow-citizens -decent people like yourselves.

50,185 people hold the 1,445,-000 chartered bank shares issued. Seventy out of every hundred shares are owned in Canada.

The average share-holding is 28.8 shares—but all through the note of Dank Sharenomers you will find hundreds who own from one to five shares.

There is no concentration of ownership and power in the hands of any small group. These shareholders annually elect directors. There are 172 directors of Canada's chartered banks, Their addresses dot the map of Canada from coast to coast. They are men of proven business ability; their own success has proved their judgment good; that judgment is always alert in safeguarding your money.

Their business experience reinforces the skill and training of the salaried bank executives in conserving the interests of the depositors, note-holders and shareholders.

Loans to bank directors, firms in which they are partners and loans for which they are guarantors, as of February 28th. 1938, did not exceed 1/100th part of the total loans made by the chartered banks. That is about the usual proportion. Monthly returns have to be made to the Government showing these borrowings. No director may vote, or even be present at a meeting of the board when loans in which he has any interest are under dis-

The law prevents a bank from doing certain things. A bank is prohibited from lending on mortgages, for loans must be of short term and quickly realiz-

A bank is forbidden to engage in trade. It must not buy, or lend against its own shares or the shares of any other chartered bank. No bank, bank director, or bank employee is allowed to hold shares in the Bank of Canada.

A bank must not let its name appear on certain prospectuses, nor may any of its staff represent insurance companies.

There are heavy penalties laid down for violation of any of these and other provisions of The Bank Act.

Your bank provides machinery for carrying out adequately the most widely varying, dayto-day transactions financing farmer or factory, merchant or miner; simplifying business, facilitating the exchange of goods and services.

Canada's chartered banks are owned by your fellow-citizens, directed by men known as competent leaders of business and managed by able men risen from the ranks whose whole business life and experience has been in the bank.

They are at your service.

Your local branch bank manager will be glad to talk banking with you. He will be glad to answer your questions, from the standpoint of his own experience. The next article in this series will appear in this newspaper. Watch for it.
