THE NEW COUNCIL'S TASK.

There can be no mistaking the meaning of the vote yesterday. For that let us all be truly thankful. It means that the mass of the people are strongly opposed to having municipal affairs mixed up with party politics. It is a lesson which every member of the Council might well keep fixed in his mind, lest cellar. Price, including furni- efforts and a square deal for all peradventure he be tempted later on to forget the lesson and ture, $3,000. Cash deposit, $800. and retired to his seat. He was yield to the influence of his friends.

Undoubtedly the labor vote had a great deal to do with McBride street on Ninth avenue, "Is Mr. Dagnall in the hall? Mayor Newton's big majority. The fact that the workingmen Section 6. were able to put W. H. Montgomery in in Ward 1 and Tom Another Good Buy and Mr. Dagnall did not respond Maitland in in Ward 2 shows that their voting power is large enough to be effective in both wards. In this more than in any 3-room house. Price $1,260. other way the danger to Mayor Newton's peace of mind and Cash deposit $600. safety lies. Mayor Newton is already pretty well pledged to the workingmen. In fulfilling his pledges he must beware lest a similar fate to that of Mayor Taylor of Vancouver befall him. K. NA The position of the two editor-labor-mayors is similar in many ways.

Mayor Newton is to be congratulated on having some of the best of the support that offered. This is especially true of Alderman Morrissey, whose return is all the more creditable because he refrained entirely from campaigning, soliciting sup- 511065. REPAIRED port or making promises. He took the ground that if the public was not satisfied with his past service it was unbecoming of him to go around begging for their support. The independence shown by the Alderman in this act is one of the best of qualities in an alderman.

The next great question that the public is interested in is in regard to the possibility of a clean-up on the license and police boards. Mayor Newton promised a clean-up on both if he got the nominating of one of the commissioners on each board. He stated his firm belief in the good faith of the McBride Government that he would be given the privilege of nominating one of the commissioners on each board.

The News takes this with a grain of salt. It would be so great a reversal of policy for the McBride Government to put on any man who would allow of a "clean-up" that we decline to the likely that the state of the likely that the state of the likely that the li believe it. Mayor Newton's defeated rival is much more likely to find a place on one or other of the boards than Mayor Newton's nominees.

That Mayor Newton and the Council of 1912 will start off with the general support of the general public is assured by the vote. In no previous year has there been so much unanimity of thought, or so little rancour in the electorate. The two mayoral candidates fought a bitter fight while it lasted, but this bitterness did not extend to their supporters, and indeed had ended between the principals before ever the ballots were counted.

Our new Mayor has a fair field in front of him, with every opportunity in his favor for making good. The News joins the great mass of the citizens in wishing the new Council every success in their administration, and pledges them its support in their endeavors for the welfare of the city.
