DAILY EDITION.

RETIREMENT OF MR. J. S. COWPER.

This issue of The Daily News sees a change in its management. In the retirement of Mr. J. S. Cowper as managing editor, we have only to express our sympathy and endorsement of his untiring efforts toward the upbuilding and advancement of the paper in particular, and the interests and welfare of Northern British Columbia in general. In his work Mr. Cowper has been unselfish and devout, and has certainly done his duty 1910 of $13,817,140. The net will make an angle of 30 degrees well and good, always confident of the future of the paper, confident as well of the field of his endeavor.

His ability as an editorial writer ranks along with his unquestioned ability as a public speaker, among the first in the land. He will always be looked upon as a foremost exponent of the wonderful advantages and resources of our great Northern British Columbia. We wish you well, Mr. Cowper.

The policy of the paper will continue to be for progressfor instruction, observation and reasoning-upbuilding, not tearing down. We claim no great natural aptitude, but will set to work and with the earnest devotion of our best efforts feel confident of maintaining the position of The Daily News as the leading newspaper of Northern British Columbia.
