It's No Surprise That You're Constipated!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself some questions!

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Sold by every grocer.

On Victoria Day, tomorrow, the registration and general delivery wickets will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Money Orders may be purchased at registration wicket. The public lobby will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A. J. Jephcott of London, England, who is making a trip around the world and has been here for the past two or three days, leaves on this evening's train for Jasper Park where he will be joined by his wife. Mr. Jephcott arrived at the end of the week from Vancouver, having come to this coast from Australia via San Francisco.

Gardening

The annual meeting of the Horticultural Society on Thursday night was a really successful event. Not only was the attendance large but those attending seemed to be keenly interested, particularly in the pictures that were shown by Dr. and Mrs. Mandy. Mrs. Mandy's address was a particularly happy one and seemed to give pleasure to everyone.

The warmer weather has brought out the garden enthusiasts in full force and there is much digging and hoeing and talking over garden problems. The first full day of sunshine the flowers hardly knew whether to grow or wilt. Some of them wilted. Then they all got down to business.

Sport enthusiasts at Powell River complain that all their married sportsmen are too busy converting their places into miniature Kew gardens to give any attention to golf, baseball, or any such trivialities. They say they have no time for anything but gardening just now. Possibly later when the edge is off their enthusiasm they may condense to pitch a ball or wrangle with His Majesty the Ump.

The increased greenhouse accommodation at the back of the Court House has proven a very valuable adjunct to the garden possibilities there. It is providing not only sufficient plants for the beds in the front, which are already planted, but also for the sunken garden, which has been much improved. Visitors to these gardens have been remarking on the wonderful change there of late. The new lawn at the back, the new greenhouse and the general improvement is a credit to the whole institution and to the city.

Led by William Cruickshank and Ellis Morris, residents of the Currie Bungalow Court above McBride Street at the corner of Fifth Avenue are developing a fine rock garden on rather ambitious scale and should make quite a showing this year. The ground is considerably above the street from which it cannot be fully seen. The beds have been attractively arranged amid flagstone walks and off over an incline.—H.F.P.

Just Plain Housekeeping

Recently we asked women to tell us why they like Pacific Milk. One writes us now to say her reasons are so commonplace she did not try for a prize. She says that its keeping qualities its richness and the way it whips just puts it in the place where she can't use anything else. We like practical people.
