RESULT OF PLEBISCITE WILL ENDORSE HITLER; NEXT MOVE INTRIGUES

German On Street Expects Der Fuehrer Will Start Fresh Campaign For Return of Former Possessions

BERLIN, April 9: (CP)—The outcome of tomorrow's plebiscite in regard to Chancellor Hitler's recent action in Austria is a foregone conclusion. Endorsation of the voters in Germany, Austria as well as abroad will be almost unanimous. Word was received last night of the results of the plebiscite as conducted aboard a German crusier off the coast of Peru for Germans and Austrians resident in that South American republic. It was 3900 to 47 in favor of endorment.

Interest centres not so much in the result of the plebiscite as to what Der Fuehrer's next move will be after the vote. Many believe that it will be followed by further definite expansionary moves.

With subsidence of foreign resentment over Hitler's venture in Austria, the German man in the street fervently believes the Fuehrer will renew with increased vigor his insistence on return of Germany's former colonies.

The German people generally have faith in their leader bordering on the fanatical. Past experiences have convinced them Hitler knows nothing that cannot be achieved and are prepared to follow him towards any objective—even if it involves war.

While the chancelleries of Europe were brooding over the crisis attending the military occupation of Austria, there was little evidence of concern among the population of Germany. Foreign intervention was unthinkable, Hitler had spoken and whoever dared challenge his decision must be prepared to fight.

Military efficiency and thoroughness, foundation stones of Germany's pre-war might, have been placed on a higher plane under the Nazi regime. Regimentation and military precision find their way into every form of life, at home, at work and at play.

The "re-birth" of the nation is the greatest boast of the average citizen. He goes out of his way to impress upon the visitor the re-moulding of Germany's might under Hitler's leadership. Before the advent of the Fuehrer, they point out, the country was torn by clashing political interests, the country was in economic eclipse, in a state of bankruptcy, with unemployment.

All that has been swept away by Hitler, they say, to the German Aryan he is a demi-god. His name is on everybody's lips throughout the day in the salutation, "Heil Hitler." His picture is almost as commonplace as the swastika emblem and every factory and public building displays his bust in bronze in a prominent place.

But the German believes Hitler's mission is far from complete achievement, German minorities in other lands will always remain a deep concern of the Reich and the government is keeping close watch on the treatment of German nationals in Czechoslovakia—the new powder keg of Europe.

A German army officer discussing the subject said: "A powerful self-reliant nation of 70,000,000 will never tolerate ill-treatment of its nationals in another land, especially if they are there by compulsion, Germany will be ready to act if the necessity arises."

Look Far Ahead Restoration of her former colonial possessions, however, remains as Germany's major grievance. Further delay in settlement of this question is regarded as an insolent rebuff to what the average German insists are legitimate claims. Germany must have access (Continued on Page 4)

No Confidence In President

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 9 (CP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt received what might be construed as a lack of confidence vote yesterday when the House of Representatives sent back to special reorganization committee the administration's government reorganization bill which had already been amended in various ways in the effort to compromise with the insurgent Democrats.

The action of the House means virtual rejection of the bill which would have given the President power to reorganize government bureaus by re-shuffling or abolishing agencies. It was considered an astounding defeat for the administration. It thrusts upon the White House the threat of a party rebellion against key proposals of President Roosevelt in his second term.

Cahan And Lapointe Agreed on Supreme Court As Last Resort

Important Judicial Measure is Before Parliament for Second Reading as Adjournment for Easter Recess Is Taken

OTTAWA, April 9: (CP)—With a move for abolition of appeals to the Privy Council from decisions of Canadian courts now under way, Parliament stands adjourned for a fortnight's Easter recess. Yesterday Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, came to the support of Hon. C. H. Cahan as the former Conservative Secretary of State moved the second reading of a bill making the Supreme Court of Canada tribunal of last resort for Canadian litigants. Mr. Lapointe, however, favored full investigation before any final action was taken.

The seventy-six-year-old Mr. Cahan charged that the Privy Council distorted the constitution of Canada, stultified the powers the Fathers of Confederation had intended the federal Parliament to exercise and had political and legislative as well as judicial power which was never intended.

Chief opposition to the bill, which now stands for second reading, came from the Social Creditors.

Forestry Grads Are Self-Reliant

Jobs Open For 30 Lakehead Lads; Trained To Do Many Things Well

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., April 9: (CP)—Ontario's first comprehensive forestry school has finished its first season's operations and 30 youth have graduated as real bushmen with jobs open for every one of them.

The students, between 19 and 23 years old, were soft and entirely inexperienced when they set out for their headquarters at Whitefish Lake, 50 miles west of here, where they trained under actual bush conditions.

During three months they studied forestry work, tanning leather, repairing snowshoes, cruising timber, drafting and mapping and hundreds of other subjects.

"Drop any of them out of an airplane 500 miles from nowhere and they would come out to civilization all right," said Sol J. Cowan, their instructor.

Training was under the Dominion-Provincial training scheme.

INTEREST IN BONDS

Applications For Hospital Issue Already Amount to $7100—To Open Tenders in Private

Although there has been no personal canvassing so far, there has been good response to the bonds being offered by the Prince Rupert General Hospital Association for its new building project. Applications for bonds already received total $7100, it was reported by F. A. MacCallum at the meeting of the board last night, while there is another $4000 in sight. The board has little doubt now that it will be easily able to float the $20,000 of bonds required to make up the $100,000 building fund.

Tenders for the new hospital unit are closing today and the board will hold a special meeting shortly to open and consider the bids. It was decided at last night's meeting of the board that the opening of the tenders will be conducted in private.

Correspondence in regard to the new building was received at the meeting last night from Boulbee, Sweet & Co. Ltd., Vancouver; Lemmon, Gonnason Co. Ltd., Victoria; Dominion Sound Equipment Co.; Rolefson Elevator Co.; Dominion Building & Construction Exchange; F. W. Graham Contracting Co. of Moose Jaw, and the provincial department of public works.
