THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

The subscription dance arranged by Mrs. Hubert Ward in McIntyre Hall last evening proved to be one of the most delightful of the social life of Prince Rupert. The ballroom was festooned with Christmas decorations and presented a brilliant appearance. The floor was in perfect condition and the music by Gray's orchestra consisted of popular airs, which added a zest to the merry whirl. Delicious refreshments were served when the program was half completed, after which the extras, which were "ladies' choice" and caused considerable merriment, were proceeded with.

Some very smart gowns were noticed. Mrs. Ward looked extremely well in white satin with trimmings of gold pasmenterie. Mrs. Christie had a lovely gown of white embroidered satin over pale pink satin, with pearl and diamond ornaments. Mrs. McNeil had a smart frock of blue ninon with touches of red and coral ornaments. Mrs. Burritt wore a handsome black sequins gown, and bandeau of blue gold. Mrs. Palmer was a petite figure in shell pink silk with pearl and diamond. Mrs. Bryant had a dashing gown of black and white embroidered chiffon over watermelon pink satin. Mrs. Mortimer wore a dainty frock of pale pink voile with maltese bertha. Miss McDonald was much admired in white crepe de chene edged with gold fringe. Mrs. Hugh Dunn had an exceedingly smart frock

GENEROUS BY CHANCE

All Are Enjoying the Humorous
Incident Except the Victim.

Everybody in clubdom last night was declaring it was the best joke that had ever happened in Rupert and laughing heartily. It was hard, though, on the unfortunate victim. He celebrated a birthday, or something of the kind, yesterday, and in the glowing generosity of his passing mood bestowed a $1 bill as a tip on a pretty waiting maid at the hotel. Later he discovered that the supposed one dollar bill was a fifty! Horrors!

Valuable Residential Property.

On Saturday next at 2:30 p. m. on the spot, Mr. Frank A. Ellis will sell by public auction splendid view property, Fourth Avenue and Dunsmuir street, also choice vacant lot, Fifth Avenue, without reserve. See handbills. 4t
