The first part of the program was a four-act play entitled "The Country School Ma'am," recalling conditions in the country districts in old Ontario. Mrs. E. T. Kenney acted the part of the farmer's wife very well. Mrs. Ivan Frank was the old farmer. Miss A. Longworth was the minister and Mrs. Stanley Brooks the teacher. Rev. he made a brilliant record in classics at University of St. Joseph at Memramook. A year of special study at the Seminary of Philosophy in Montreal was followed by studies at the Grand Seminary in that city. He was ordained to the holy order of priesthood in his native parish church in 1901.

In post-graduate work at Rome the young priest completed a two-years course in philosophy in one year and then took a special course in French at the Sorbonne in Paris. Returning to Rome he soon attained his doctorate of divinity and canon law and thus in four years completed a six-year course with additional study in French.

After extensive travels through Europe and to the Holy Land Father O'Leary returned home and in 1907 became pastor of Bathurst with charge of the parish of Jaquet River. His first great work at Charlottetown, where he was consecrated bishop in 1913 was the rebuilding of the cathedral and bishop's residence which had burned during the interval between his nomination and consecration. In his seven years' stay at Charlottetown, he developed St. Dunstan's college into a university and carried the church's work into many varied spheres.

Bishop O'Leary was consecrated Archbishop of Edmonton in 1920, succeeding Archbishop Legal. He again turned his attention especially to educational development and directed erection of St. Joseph's College, to train young men for the priesthood. He was a popular figure at the University of Alberta, delivering the principal address at the 1922 convocation and receiving the degree of doctor of laws. Celebrating his silver jubilee in the priesthood in 1926 he was made an assistant at the pontifical throne, with the title of Count of the Apostolic Palace.

The Archbishop was predeceased in 1930 by his brother Louis who also became Bishop of Charlottetown. Another brother, Richard, lumber merchant of Richibucto, N.B., died in 1932.

Rev. B. E. Bergeson of Minneapolis, after a tour of Alaska, arrived in the city today from the north aboard the Princess Norah and will spend the week in Prince Rupert conducting evangelistic services.

played Hungarian dances.

Between the acts pleasing vocal numbers were given by the Misses Waite and Grey and Mrs. Stanley Brooks, including "By The Waters of Minnetonka," "Pale Moon," "Danny Boy" and "Beautiful Dreamer," solos, and "Spring Song" and Brahms' "Lullaby," duets.

The program was completed with folk dancing by the Junior girls of Knox United Church.
