REMEMBRANCE DAY PARADE

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations

It seems that some of the ladies who march in the annual parade on Remembrance Day were hurt at remarks made in this paper on the desirability of military drill and how such drill was useful in connection with public parades.

The Daily News realizes the high purpose which brings these ladies together once a year and causes some of them discomfort in joining in the annual demonstration of loyalty and respect for the men who gave their lives for their country. It is a splendid thing and we hope that anything we have said will not cause any of them to falter in carrying on from year to year. We realize that it is always easy to sit on the sidelines and criticize. In trying to make the Daily News useful to the community in which it is published we may be a little inclined to hit hard for the sake of emphasis and occasionally this has unexpected, repercussions.

In discussing public questions, such as the advantages of military drill, it is necessary to show its advantages and then in order to drive it home it is desirable to show what happens when there is no drill. We tried to do that. In doing so some people were hurt. While hurting people! cannot always be avoided and indeed is sometimes very necessary, we do not want to say or do anything that will lessen interest in the annual armistice parade. It has been always an outstanding annual event no matter what the weather and we have always admired the courage of the good ladies who take part.

LEGISLATURE OPENS

The Legislature opens its annual sesesion today and it is announced that it will likely do all the business that CHRISTMAS Card salespeople. Big is offering in time to adjourn for the Christmas holidays. Yet there will be some important matters before the members and it is forecast that such far-reaching matters as a government oil drilling campaign will be decided upon for the development of the Peace River country.

STILL PONDERING

Many newspaper writers are still discussing the recent Munich Pact and they seem to be divided as to whether war was prevented at that time or not. One paper quotes a German authority to the effect that Germany did, not intend to fight so it was unnecessary to give away anything. The sacrifice of Czechoslovakia was wholly unnecessary.

What is clear about the crisis is that Britain was unprepared and is setting out to mend her fences so that she may not again be caught in a similar position.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.
