Enthusiasm For Sport.

It is difficult to understand the enthusiasm of some of the English people for sport. For a man to stay up all night in a cold rain and remain in the same place all next morning in order to get a good seat at a football match seems like carrying the sport craze to the limit.

Why be Cynical And Suspicious?

Why are Prince Rupert people so cynical and suspicious? With a few notable exceptions nothing good can come out of Prince Rupert. The citizens will not recognize local ability. There is always something wrong with local effort.

As a matter of fact Prince Rupert has some of the finest people, the cleverest artists, the keenest businessmen, and the best women there are in the country. There are few places that compare with this in the personnel of its citizens.

Snow on Saturday On the Prairies.

On Saturday there was a bad snowstorm in Southern Alberta. That is where they get the climate. Sunny Alberta is a fine place to live but they have their set backs and their disagreeable times, just as we do in Prince Rupert and everywhere else.

WHEAT SHIPPED THROUGH STATES

Only 24 per cent of Product Goes Out of Canadian Ports.

WINNIPEG, April 25.—In the half year which ended with February last less than 24 per cent of Canada's exports of wheat to overseas countries was shipped direct through Canadian ocean ports. Of the total export business to all countries about seventy per cent was done from Western Canada. These are striking statements from an article in the Grain Trade News, a daily market paper issued in Winnipeg, which gives details of the exports of wheat from this country during the six months from September 1, 1920, to February 28, 1921.

The article says: If the figures for the Canadian ocean ports are picked out of the general list it is found that the direct exports of Canadian wheat to overseas countries from our own ports for the six months totalled only 14,936,022 bushels. These are the revised official figures.

Vancouver, 466,328 bushels, Montreal, 11,943,564 bushels, St. John, 2,484,544 bushels, Quebec, 41,186 bushels, North Sydney, 100 bushels. These are very small shipments from eastern Canadian ports and it will be noted that no shipment at all is reported from Halifax. Less than 24 per cent of Canada's exports of wheat to overseas countries was shipped direct through Canadian ocean ports. This is below the average per centage and may perhaps be partly accounted for by the fact that an unusually large proportion of our wheat exports during these months was destined to central and southern European countries for which there was liner accommodation at United States ports. Tabulated, the figures are as follows: Exports from Canadian ocean ports—Vancouver, 466,328 bushels; Montreal, 11,943,564; Quebec 41,186; St. John, 2,484,544, and North Sydney 100 bushels. Total from Canadian ocean ports, 14,936,022 bushels.

AIDS TO FARMERS IN NORTHERN B. C.

Illustration Stations to be Established and Man to be Appointed to Study Conditions

John Foster, chief supervisor of illustrations for the Federal department of agriculture is here in the course of a tour of the province with the object of establishing illustration stations. Up to the present stations have been started at Armstrong, Kamloops, Barrer, Ladner, Langley Prairie, Merville and Comox.

It is Mr. Foster's intention to establish six stations along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific during the coming week, and he is stopping off at various points along the line for this purpose.

Mr. Foster further says that he expects to send a man into that country to study conditions and give advice to farmers. This he thinks will be of considerable practical advantage.
