BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting a cold, or exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is a raising of phlegm, especially the first thing in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby prevent it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Cuthbert, Sheffield, Ontario, writes:—"In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which helped me very much; I then got a 6oz. size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise Dr. Wood's enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 35c. and 60c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Adv't.

Last night's regular passenger train, delayed on account of the slide at Salvo where the way freight was wrecked on Friday night, arrived here at 1.10 this afternoon. The train, due to leave for the east at 11.15 this morning, did not get away until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A man named William Rogers was admitted to the General Hospital yesterday morning, having been picked up on the railroad track near the city garbage wharf. His account of how he came to be there is somewhat vague and all that he is able to state is that he was knocked out.

Samuel J. Douglas and Jack A. Sutherland, the victims of Friday night's railway wreck are resting as easily as can be expected at the General Hospital today, although both are suffering a good deal. The former sustained the most severe burns while the latter had the double injury in having his leg broken at the same time as being scalded. After the wreck Mr. Douglas walked half a mile to the Salvo section foreman's house.

WAS KILLED BY X-RAYS

British Doctor Victim of Newer Tubes Used in Instrument

LONDON, April 25. — The death of Dr. Ronald Bruce, radiologist at Charing Cross Hospital, is said new evidence of the risk run by physicians who make use of X-rays in their daily practice. It would appear that the new X-ray tubes possess powers of penetration, and so of injury, far in excess of those which characterize the early forms, and that Dr. Bruce has fallen a victim to a destruction of the blood caused by frequent exposure to the gamma rays which these tubes emit. In other words, the protective measures devised against the older tubes are inadequate when used against the newer, the rays from which are not stopped by the screens.

When the tubes of high penetrating power were introduced, Dr. Bruce was among the first to obtain them. He believed then that the improvements obtained would greatly enlarge the usefulness of the X-rays, more especially in the treatment of malignant growths and blood diseases. His hopes have been in a measure fulfilled and his own work on the anaemias remains as a memorial to his industry and imagination. Every effort, including a transfusion of blood from a willing donor, was made to save him. He was only 35 and had attained a position in the front rank.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs paraded last evening to the Presbyterian Church where Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant delivered a special sermon, taking as his subject "Friendliness and Neighborliness." PROHIBITION IN MOVIES

Bryant Washburn in "The Six Best Cellars" Here

Holworthy Hall and Hugh Kahler recently wrote a screamingly funny story about Prohibition called "The Six Best Cellars." It proved so popular that it was brought out in book form. Now it has reached the movies and, with Bryant Washburn as the star, the picture will be shown at the Empress tonight.

Mr. Washburn has the role of a leading member of a fashionable social set of young married people. To keep in the swim he is pretending to possess a big private stock of choice drinkables. On the eve of a big dinner which he is giving, he unexpectedly locates several cases of wine bottles at the home of a Prohibition aunt. At the crucial moment at the party he is horrified to discover the bottles empty. He saves his face by launching into a fierce diatribe against drinking for drinking's sake, which leads him into complications too rich to tell about here.

A. R. Holby, master of bridges and construction, and R. A. Harlow, roadmaster, came in on the train this afternoon from up the line.

A lot of people spend money in advertising, others invest it in advertising. An advertisement in the Daily News is an investment.
