Brief Ceremony at Ship Launching on Thursday next

About 700 invitations have been issued for the launching ceremony of the "Canadian Scottish" to be held at the Wallace hippodrome next Thursday afternoon. For the occasion the yards will be thrown open to the general public and the invitation card will not be necessary for admission, it being more in the nature of a souvenir. The card, itself, has been artistically printed and its upper left hand corner bears a tartan plaid of real cloth.

For the launching party a platform is to be erected and on his Mrs. Peck, the sponsor, and officials and others will stand. After the launching the party will go to the general offices where the usual presentation to the sponsor will be made. The whole ceremony including launching and presentation will be over in fifteen or twenty minutes.

After she leaves the ways the "Canadian Scottish" will be picked up by the Lorne and towed to the dock where the work of fitting will be done. It should be but a matter of half an hour's time after her launching when the ship will be tied up.
