ASK SALE OF BLOCK

City Council reiterates request that Province dispose of Old Court House Square

The hardy perennial regarding the sale of the old court house block in the downtown business section of the city was brought forth at last night's council meeting by Ald. James Black who, after reviewing the advisability of having the block thrown upon the market, moved a resolution that the minister of lands be communicated with and requested to put the block on sale as soon as possible. The resolution was seconded by Ald. Rudderham and carried.

Mayor Orme stated the matter had been taken up by him with Hon. W. H. Bruhn, minister of public works, during his recent visit to the city and that he had suggested, if the time was not felt opportune to sell the block, that a fair valuation of it at least be made.

Was In Bed All Summer

"I have to work in the store and do my own housework, too, and I got nervous and run-down and was in bed nearly all summer. The least noise would make me nervous. I was told to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken seven bottles. It has made me stronger and put more color into my face. I am looking after my store and housework and my four children and I am getting along nicely now."

fossils, the still finer division of time in the earth crust building process and history, closing his first address by sketching on a black-board to illustrate his meaning.

Dr. Mandy introduced the subject of primary water as being of great interest. The speaker explained that this content was probably inherent in the great magma or molten interior of the globe as evidenced in such phenomena as fumaroles and by scientific analysis of even the basic granite rock.

One questioner asked concerning the solar or other origin of the earth. The speaker dwelt on this at suitable length. Another questioner asked about the geologic origin of oil. This, too, was briefly explained.

Before closing, the chairman gave expression to the gratifying result of the meeting to the speakers and to the department.

Afternoon lectures will deal more with the question of ores, minerals, metals and their identification. The evening lectures will approach the subject from the more theoretical aspect.

STEAMERS COLLIDED

at 7.30 p.m. Saturday instead of on schedule time at 9 p.m. Friday. She is cutting the length of her stays north from here to Anyox, Alice Arm and Stewart to a minimum and is expected back here tomorrow morning southbound. Even then, she will be almost a day late as she should have sailed for the south at 1.30 this afternoon. Enroute to Vancouver, the scheduled call at Ocean Falls will also be eliminated. The idea is to get the vessel back on schedule time in place of the steamer Catala which she is relieving for the next few weeks.

Local offices of the Union Steamship Co. stated this morning that the Camosun was expected back from the north about 9 to 9.30 tomorrow morning and would sail at 11 o'clock for the south.

The Camosun's sprung plates are well above the waterline.

Bad Cold On Her Chest Had To Stay In Bed

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. J. C. Winters, Janow, Man., writes:—“I have every reason to praise Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup as it has done me a world of good. I had a very bad cold on my chest, and had to stay in bed two weeks, and could hardly speak on account of coughing so much. I tried every medicine and liniment I could think of, but I got no relief. My husband read about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup so I decided to try it. I took only one bottle and I am ready to recommend it to anyone with a cold.”

Price 85c. a bottle; large family size 65c.; at all druggists or dealers; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

TURKISH HANGING

Twenty-Eight Religious Reactionaries Strung Up For Attempting to Stage Revolution

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 3.—Twenty-eight religious reactionaries, convicted of participating in an abortive revolutionary outbreak in December last at Menemen, were hanged there at dawn today.

The bodies of the 28 Turkish Moslem reactionaries hung from their gibbets in the cold Balkan wind today as a stern warning from the republic that the days of the Caliphate have passed forever.

Singly and in some cases in groups the condemned men, convicted of leading an abortive revolutionary movement on December 23, were led at dawn from their cells to the gallows where Gypsy hangmen, with western caps, oddly topping, baggy Turkish trousers and scarlet sashes, swung them aloft.

There were almost no eyewitnesses to the executions beyond a few officials.

An occasional scream could be heard from women peeping from behind shuttered windows, however, and, with the advance of day, shuddering crowds passed the gruesome scene.

There were to have been 32 executions but two of the condemned died of heart failure at the approach of their doom and the sentences of two were commuted.
