

THE SWAN SONG A number of newspapers are singing the swan song of Charles ry about who is responsible for A. Dunning, until a few days ago minister of finance in the Mackenzie King government and still nominally holding that position. He has gone to England on holiday to try to recover the health which he lost in the service of his . 4 . . . country.

Some very kind things are being said about Mr. Dunning, it being considered that he is finished, so far as politics is concerned. Here is what Bruce Hutchison says of him:

"Above all, Dunning was a lovable man in politics, the most popular figure in Ottawa, liked as well among Conservatives as Liberals, for once you sat down with him and talked to him, you couldn't dislike him, even if you were a Communist. There was a vitality about him, the way he grinned, the way his frown would turn to a smile, the extraordinary youthfulness of him, a sense of force and vigor and a kind of who formerly made a living from friendliness that came out of those prairie farms, those country meetings."

to meet our difficulties squarely, study conditions, and never worthe present situation. We all think it is Hitler who is making the trouble but it may be ourselves who created a condition which gave Hitler his chance. At any rate it matters little who is responsible unless we are prepared to do something about it. Even if it was Chamberlain who was the source of recent jitters, we might as well keep quiet, meet the situation as we find it and do our best right here and now.

AGE OF MECHANICS

The tragedy of the lack of work for people who ordinarily work in the harvest fields is more and more accentuated each year. In the old days it cost the average farmer to harvest an acre of wheat somewhere around two dollars. Today by the use of the combine he can do the same work for 26c an acre and all the men stooking and pitching sheaves and threshing are no longer needed. Half of the fun of farming is lost but the cost is that
