ROMANTIC ADVENTURE

"Only Angels Have Wings." With Cary Grant, Jean Arthur and Richard Barthelme. At Capitol Theatre

Combining tropical romance and thrilling aerial adventure in South America. "Only Angels Have Wings," heralded as one of 1939's greatest adventure pictures, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here for the first half of this week. Cary Grant and Jean Arthur head a cast which also includes such favorites as Richard Barthelme, Rita Hayworth, Thomas Mitchell and Sig Rumann.

The story concerns a commercial aviation field operated by Cary Grant in a small South American banana port. The pilots are a desperate crew of devil-may-care adventurers willing to fly any old crate with wings into any sort of weather. Jean Arthur is a show girl whose troupe has broken up further south and arrives on a banana freighter enroute to Panama. She falls in love with Grant and decides to stay. In an atmosphere of hatred, jealousy and danger things happen and suspense pervades every scene as the story unfolds. Finally, the picture comes to a happy and heroic ending with a note of pathos in the closing scenes.

CONSTIPATION HOLDS YOU BACK

You cannot make much of a success in life if you are dragged down by constipation. Your trouble may be due to nothing more than a diet deficiency of bulk... eating foods which do not provide the "bulk" needed by the bowels for regular movement. If you suffer from this common type of constipation, get at the cause of your trouble by eating crisp, crunchy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day for breakfast and drinking plenty of water. ALL-BRAN contributes to the needed "bulk" and is a rich source of nature's intestinal tonic Vitamin B. Try ALL-BRAN and see how differently you feel.

RADIO RECEPTION

Editor, Daily News:
It has been thought that the public would be interested in receiving whatever information is available regarding the prospects for improved radio reception in Prince Rupert.

Our information was that the interference from the high power line on McBride Street overshadowed everything else and that little headway could be made in removing other interference until that was removed. Therefore, after two years of effort with the full support of Olof Hanson M.P., and the recommendation of the engineering department of the Canadian Radio Commission, the installation of silent type insulators from McClymont Park to the substation was completed about the month of May.

But, in addition to McBride Street, owing to our great distance from the broadcasting stations and at times due to atmospheric conditions, radio signals simply do not reach Prince Rupert. Especially during the past year there have been times when the Digby wireless has had the greatest difficulty in getting through its messages, owing to atmospheric conditions.

With a view to ascertaining the best form for improvement in radio reception for Prince Rupert and all this north country, H. O. Merriman, chief engineer of the Radio Department at Ottawa and also Messrs. Turner and Irwin of the same department were in Prince Rupert from October 18 to 23. While here they were busy every minute making various tests in different parts of the city. They, apparently, were thoroughly familiar with the Ketchikan system of rebroadcasting, had surveyed the possibilities of the radiophone from Vancouver, short wave from the southern part of the province, a powerful broadcast station at Vancouver and also a direct wire from Jasper—the nearest point at present. While here a special aerial was constructed and special instruments installed for more tests. This equipment is in charge of Mr. Clavering—part time radio inspector. Records will be kept over a considerable period of time to obtain the information wanted.

These men, on their way East, stopped off at Terrace, Smithers, etc. where tests were made.

Mr. Merriman stated that the interference from McBride Street was only 10 per cent of what is usually experienced from such high power installations. It can be stated, however, that the McBride Street interference varies greatly from time to time.

It would seem that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, having during the past few years constructed 50,000-watt stations at Saint John, N.B., Toronto, and Watrous, Saskatchewan and having boosted Vancouver from 500 to 5000 watts, will do something for Northern B. C. in the not too distant future.

Preparations For Armistice Day At Legion Executive

The executive of the Prince Rupert Branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League was in session last evening in preparation for the regular monthly meeting of Wednesday of this week.

Applications for membership were approved and referred to the general meeting for endorsement. Letters of thanks from individuals and organizations that had been assisted were read.

Advice of the awarding of a contract for extension to approach at Dodge Cove, Digby Island was received as this includes the usual clause covering employment of veterans.

Considerable time was devoted to the final arrangements for the annual Armistice Banquet. This will be held in the Moose Hall this year as there will not be adequate accommodation in the Legion quarters for those expected to attend. There are many ex-service men among the units now in town and these are all eligible to attend.

The details of the arrangements for the Remembrance Day parade were under discussion. Comrade George Cripps, who is in charge this year of the arrangements, has made a splendid job of the planning and special provision has been made for those taking part and the general public to hear all of the ceremony by the installation of loud speakers.

Those in attendance, in addition to President Jack Preece, were W. J. Rance, Neil Cameron, G. J. Dawes, H. T. Lock, C. L. Barker, J. Armstrong and G. W. Abbott.
