Search For Body Of Teacher Is On

Provincial Police Endeavouring To Recover Remains of Third Auto Plunge Victim

NELSON, November 7: (CP) — Search is being continued by the provincial police in the Columbia River near Brilliant, Doukhobor settlement west of here, for the body of Miss Helen Lentsmen, school teacher, third victim of an automobile accident Sunday night when Alfred Heath Sweeney of Castlegar and Miss Clara S. Stewart of Brilliant lost their lives as a result of the car plunging 150 feet over an embankment into the river.

The car was rounding a sharp turn to go on to a switchback and went over the bank while being backed up. Two girls who escaped fell out of the car on the way down the bank. Sweeney, his chest badly crushed, died on the way to hospital here.

The young women had been spending the week-end in Nelson and were returning to their village schools.

Veterans Have Church Parade

Impressive Showing Made by Members of Canadian Legion Augmented by Local Militia

The annual church parade of the Prince Rupert Branch of the Canadian Legion took place on Sunday when the veterans attended service in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral.

In spite of the inclement weather there were over forty ex-service men on parade with members of the Women's Auxiliary under their president, Mrs. R. Murray, also attending. President Jack Preece was in charge with J. S. Wilson assisting. The parade was headed by the Prince Rupert Boys' Band under Bandmaster Robert Greenfield, himself a veteran and Legionair.

As the veterans reached the corner of McBride Street and Fifth Avenue the church parade of the various military units in town fell in behind and the combined units made an impressive showing. The pipers of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish supplied music as the Boys' Band stopped playing.

The lessons were read by Dean J. B. Gibson and Bishop G. A. Rix gave a suitable and much appreciated address. The choir rendered as a special anthem Kipling's "Recessional." Buglar W. J. Rance sounded the "Reveille" at the close of the service.
