the King and Queen."

THE KING IS IN CANADA The King and Queen of Canada have arrived. Long may they live. They come, not as czars, or dictators, but as heads of a democratic state and are today being acclaimed by the mass of the people, not under compulsion _H. J. Turner, winner of the or from fear but from a feeling of loyalty and good will to single sculls at the Empire Games St. Louis British institutions under which the country has grown last year, will be a member of the Detroit up and will continue to grow stronger and greater. With all true Canadian citizens we join in saying "Long Live

OUR DEMOCRACY

In the assize court yesterday a man was accused of attempted murder and was put on trial in a case in which his liberty was involved. He was from one of the central European states and spoke the English language, the language of Canada, only imperfectly. No one inquired if he was of Canadian or British birth or even if he was now a British citizen. All that concerned the court was that he must be given British justice.

The question arose as to whether a statement he was alleged to have made when arrested was made as a free expression of opinion or whether any pressure might have been brought to bear to make him confess. The judge made the jury retire and, while it was out of the courtroom, all the witnesses who had been present at the time were closely questioned as to what was said prior to the statement of the accused. More than an hour of the time of the court was devoted to making sure that this man of foreign birth was protected from himself in connection with the trial. In no other country in the world would so much care be taken to see that an accused person was given justice.

MAIL IS LATE

It is difficult to describe all the inconvenience it brings to Prince Rupert people when the mail from the East is delayed by trouble on the line, such as must hap, pen on almost any line in the country and especially in a more or less mountainous country. A daily mail would do away with much of the inconvenience but to get a daily train it seems we must have population both in Prince Rupert and in the interior.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.
