New Restaurant Building Soon

George James of the Boston Cafe announces that he is planning to let the contract for the basement of his new building on Third Avenue some time this week. It will be 25 feet square. As soon as it is finished the contract for the building will be let.

The new building will be of concrete, 25 feet wide and the full length of the lot. The cabaret will be at the back a few feet larger than the old one. The kitchen will be about half way back so that it will be easy of access to any part of the restaurant.

While it is possible the new building may be completed this year, it is not likely to be occupied until after the New Year rush when the old restaurant will be closed and the new one opened about a week later.

Winter Descends Suddenly Upon Bulkley Valley

SMITHERS, Oct. 1.—Winter made a sudden move on the Bulkley Valley last week when the snow line dropped from the very peaks of the mountains down to the ground level during Wednesday night to surprise the citizens and particularly the farmers who still had grain in the fields.

There was not a heavy fall and it disappeared in the course of twenty-four hours, only to repeat the performance again on Friday night and the weather is now back to normal.

It is not often that snow descends on the hills so rapidly as it can generally be watched creeping down as the season progresses.

Several nights of fairly heavy frosts have also been experienced during the past ten days, all of which are reminders that winter is just around the corner.

SMITHERS

Grouse hunters have not had very good luck this year. The birds do not seem to be plentiful and bags are consequently light. Very few are to be seen along the roads and the hunters are forced to roam the woods with their dogs to locate them.

E. T. Kenney, M. L. A. for Skeena, arrived in Smithers on Saturday morning from Terrace to pay a visit before leaving for Victoria to attend the session of the Legislature which opens on October 31. He left Smithers for Hazelton Tuesday morning and took the noon train from Hazelton for Terrace.

Tom Collison left Smithers on Tuesday's train for Prince Rupert to join the 102nd Battery of Coast Artillery. He is the third member of the Collison family to join the army since war was declared, having been preceded by Prince Rupert by his two brothers, Bill and Graham.

Oscar Ekman, who has been a well known farmer of the Telkwa district for many years, is disposing of his belongings by auction on Thursday afternoon and expects to leave the district very soon to take up residence in Vancouver or vicinity.
