Fleet Leaves

For Honolulu

Last Saturday afternoon and again Saturday evening he carried out his demonstrations before large crowds in Smithers and on Sunday afternoon he swam the Bulkley River a short distance above the bridge. Crowds of people lined the bridge and the shores of the river to watch the performance which was an extremely easy one for "Tarzan" as he made the crossing in one minute and was not carried very far down stream by the current. He then swam down stream to the bridge where he left the water which is not very warm at this or any other time of the year.

The performer is a young man named Krikor Hekimikn of Armenian birth. His chief diet is garlic, according to his own declaration, and he attributes a great deal of his ability to the generous consumption of this article of diet.

He travels around the country demonstrating his strength and ability and arrived last night in Prince Rupert.
