Later at the Legislative Buildings, 7.4c and 5c. Their Majesties were given a formal welcome to the province by Premlature and other dignitories.

This was followed by the memorable Empire radio broadcast by the King whose address of 800 words was the longest he had ever made over the air. His Majesty said that spiritual dignity and material happiness must be general before the Empire could claim to be of service to its own cardinal virtues exemplified by the two great nations of Great Britain and the United States. None could ever again conceive the British and American peoples resorting to war to solve differences. His journey through Canada was proving a deeply moving experience to him, His Majesty
