IS AGAIN Finnish Defence Headed By Baron

Who Routed Reds

Baron Field Marshal Carl Gustaf Emil' Mannerheim made headlines and with Finland and Russia once more in conflict, the redoubtable Baron is again in the news.

The First Great War was three years old when Finland proclaimed her independence in December, 1917. Almost immediately, the wellorganized Social Democrats of Finland moved to set up a soviet regime like the one in Russia. Their Red Guard captured many important cities, including Helsingfors, the capital.

At this juncture, Baron Mannerheim became the leader of a counter-revolution. Scion of one of the important Finnish noble families. Mannerheim had served 30 years in the Imperial Russian Army. His Great War service as a cavalry general included periods on the Polish, Galician, Bukovinian and Bessarabian fronts. At the outbreak of the Russian Revolution in 1917, he returned to Finland. In January, 1918, the Finnish Diet, with the Socialist deputies excluded, authorized the organization of a White Force to fight the Red Guards and entered Helsingfors in triumph. Finnish sources say 2,people were executed before white supremacy was established. The Britannica says 15,000.

The Germans then foisted a German Prince on Finland as King. The Diet elected him to office but he never took over and finally in December, 1918, Mannerheim became regent.

He organized a force of 100,000 into a "Skyddkorps" to maintain internal order and in March, 1919 permitted elections for a parliament. At the same time he offered to join the British interventioinists against the Russian Bolshevists in return for the city of Petrograd (now Leningrad). His offer was refused. Nevertheless, a Finnish army attacked Petrograd. without success.

Under the constitution adopted in June, 1919, declaring Finland to be a republic, the Parliament chose its first president and passed over Mannerheim. He retired to
