PRINCE GEORGE, January 9: (CP)- A. J. Rogers, veteran Canadian National Railways engineer, described today how he barely escaped decapitation while driving a passenger train one hundred miles east of here Saturday in a snowstorm.

Rogers was knocked unconscions when his head struck a mail sack crane while leaning out of the cab window into the snow.

The engineer suffered a severe gash on the head but was able to proceed home on Sunday.

For Grextons, Father and Son

The provincial police motor launch P. M. L. 9, with Constable Saunders and Special Constable Gladstone on board, returned to Ocean Falls late Saturday after an unsuccessful week's search for Hugh Grexton and his son, Harry, who have been missing since December 19 when they left Alert Bay for Cape Caution to engage in fishing.

The police boat had not been heard of itself since January when it left Ocean Falls to engage in the search.

The P. M. L. 9 is to be taken from Ocean Falls to Powell River by Constable Fred Brooksbank of Victoria and will keep a look-out for the Grextons on the way. Mcanwhile it is indicated that second search will be organ ized by Mrs. Grexton and rela-
