Vancouver Beer Parlor Robbed

Three Bandits Get Away With $150 From York Hotel

VANCOUVER, August 25: (CP)—Three armed bandits held up the downtown York Hotel beer parlor Wednesday night and escaped with $150 after one had fired a warning shot into the ceiling.

Dugald Parks, for consuming liquor in a public place, namely the street on Second Avenue, was fined $50, with option of two months' imprisonment, in city police court yesterday. William Duff and Warren Scott were each fined $25, with option of seven days' imprisonment, for drunkeness. Martin Linden and Frederick Murphy were each sentenced to two days' imprisonment for creating a disturbance. William Duff paid his fine yesterday, was picked up drunk again last night and again fined $25, with seven days' option, this morning. He is now doing the time.

Tenders are being invited by the department of public works at Victoria for the erection of public buildings at Stewart. Tenders will have to be in by noon, September 13, to be opened at Victoria.

Rev. F. E. Anfield, principal of the Alert Bay Indian residential school, and Rev. R. C. Scott, principal of Coqualeetza Institute at Sardis, will be in the city aboard the steamer Cardena tonight. They are coming north to pick up pupils for the two schools who have been spending the summer at their homes along the coast and who will now be returning to their studies.

Word has been received in the city that Rev. J. H. Myrwang will be here to take up his work here as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church with services on September 3. Mr. Myrwang, with wife and three daughters, will arrive here September 1 and will take up temporary residence at 806 Borden Street. Rt. Rev. H. L. Foss will be here later to officially install Rev. Myrwang.

Man in the Moon

We don't want to fight but
By Jingo, if we do
We've got the ships, we've got the men
We've got the airplanes too.
Friend Hitler he may rave
Of what he means to steal.
But time may come when Hitler's men
Will beg of us a meal.

It wasn't a modern college president but an old timer who used to tell his students, "You must have jasm if you want to amount to anything in this world."

When they complained that they could not find the word in the dictionary, he replied, "Jasm is that something that makes a buzz saw cut its way through a keg of ten-penny nails."
