BRITISH LABOR

British labor seems to be unanimous in regard to the carrying on of the war. It evidently was a dramatic st. Louis. scene in the House of Commons when, on the eve of war, Prime Minister Chamberlain, still clinging to the hope of peace, closed his speech without actually declaring war. Arthur Greenwood, leader of the Labor Party, rose to speak amid a hush, the only sound being a voice from the Conservative benches "Speak for England, Greenwood." A chorus of fifty Conservative voices followed: "Yes, I speak for England."

These old Tories realized that the war on which they were about to embark was no Tory war. It was a war of, the common people and the common people, the labor people, are the people who really rule England. They are the people who know how to guard their liberty.

In Canada we are a more cosmopolitan people. We have not that cohesion that is found in an old country like Britain but yet when Mackenzie King declared war for the defence of the liberties of the smaller nations he was speaking for Canada. Liberty that is not worth defending is not worth having.

LENGTH OF WAR

People are bringing to speculate as to how long the seperate quarelling participants in war will last. One man yesterday suggested seven years, a fast and furious game. Others think it will take five years to complete the job. We do not think it will be that long, unless conditions wellington, N. Z., Sept. 26: change very greatly. BALL RACE NEARS END

Will Cincinnati Reds Cinch National Pennant by Winning Double-Header Today?

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26: (CP)-The National League pennant race may be settled here today or it may be forced into a hectic finish denending upon the outcome of a double-header to be played between the first place Cincinnati. By winning both games today, the Reds would be in a position where it would be impossible for the Cardinals to overtake them.

WOMEN IN WAR WORK

Quietly Leading Up To Major Activities at Home and Overseas

By MURIAL ADAMS

Canadian Presse Staff Writer TORONTO, Sept. 26: (CP) While women in the United Kingdom and other countries are already in uniform in home service war duties, Canadian women active in preliminary movements at home to take their share of wartime emergency work.

The day of the khaki-clad woman may come in Canada's future but just now her womenfolk are doing womanly jobs, knitting and sewing preparatory to training for responsible positions later on.

Throughout the nation women are registering for voluntary service, anxious to fill in where they are needed and do their bit. Results of this registration will be useful in peace as well to fight epidemics and in other national emergencies.

and some have already taken first steps to ease the situation across the seas. Blankets and warm clothing have been bundled to answer the plea from Lady Reading. leader of the Women's Volunteer Service in London to replenish meagre wardrobes of evacuated children who face winter months with insufficient clothing.
