THE NEW DEMOCRACY

When speaking at Victoria recently Hon. W. D. Herridge is reported to have said he did not intend to form a new political party. Yet word comes from Ottawa that there are to be a number of Herridge candidates in the field and they are being financed through the New Democracy party which has plenty of money with which to pay election expenses. Mayor Lyle Teiford of Vancouver is supporting the new party but declares it is not a new political party but "a surface indication of the growing unrest among the people of Canada."

One of the chief complaints against the members of the old parties has been that they took money to carry on political campaigns from people who, after they were elected, expected rewards of various kinds in the form of political favors. Now we find money coming from some unknown quarter to finance candidates who favor the Herridge policies. What are we to think? Evidently the new democracy in some respects resembles the old.

FORMER COTTON MILLS

In the neighborhood of Manchester a number of cotton mills have been forced out of business as a result of industrial changes. Rayon has in many cases taken the place of cotton. Three of these factories have been made over and turned into factories for ready-to-wear clothes employing girls. Hundreds of them are getting work in these factories and some of the output is being exported.

VANCOUVER MODEL

The proposal to form a co-operative farm in the neighborhood of Vancouver where some of Vancouver's unemployed may get relief has a precedent in South Wales where in the Vale of Glamorgan one hundred unemployed miners settled on a farm which they cultivated with much pleasure and profit to themselves and benefit to their wives and families. Each settler averaged about eleven dollars a week besides getting free vegetables. The cottages in which they lived cost them a dollar a week for rent and a garden went with each cottage.

Canada's Royal Guests— EASTERN CITIES PLAN GALA WEEK FOR ROYAL TOUR; MANY VISITORS

Quebec And Maritime Centres Make Ready for Royal Guests Returning to Canada From the United States

FREDERICTON, May 10: (CP)—When the King and Queen enter Fredericton by automobile June 13 near the end of their Canadian tour, they will find the tree-shaded, usually quiet capital of New Brunswick crowded with loyal subjects and brightly decorated with Venetian masts, 12-foot standards, evergreen, flags and bunting. Before entering the Maritimes on return from the United States, the royal party will visit the Eastern Townships of Quebec and various points on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. In the city of Sherbrooke, a 40-minute tour is planned, and, as in other cities, special provision is being made for school children and war veterans along the route.

Across the river from Quebec, a French city named for one of Montcalm's generals in the defence of Quebec, and the railway terminal town of Riviere du Loop, will see Their Majesties when the royal train halts briefly. At Newcastle, N. B., the royal party will leave the blue and silver train and motor to Fredericton.

In Fredericton the King and Queen will be driven to the legislative buildings for a reception by Lieutenant-Governor Murray MacLaren, Premier A. A. Dysart, other government members and civic officials. Next on the program is luncheon at Lady Beaverbrook's building—men's residence at the University of New Brunswick. After a brief tour of the city the royal visitors will motor to Saint John.

Tour of Saint John
In passing they will see the old Government House near the St. John River. Erected in 1828, it was the home of governors of the province for nearly 70 years. King Edward VII, when Prince of Wales, was entertained there in 1860. It was closed in 1893, the governors afterward living in their own homes and renting a house or staying at a hotel in Fredericton during legislative session. The structure is now used as provincial headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

At present an apartment house, the old building where the first legislative assembly met also is on the royal route. The present parliament building is of modern construction. Nearby, overlooking the broad St. John River, is state-ly Christ Church Cathedral, said to have been "the first cathedral foundation on English soil since the Norman Conquest."

Loyalists who led to New Brunswick, then a part of Nova Scotia, settled Fredericton and Saint John at the same time, 1783 but the latter is more commonly known as the "loyalist city." In visiting Saint John, Their Majesties will see the first incorporated city in Canada (1785).

Mayor D. L. MacLaren will greet the royal party outside the seaport city. Entering Saint John they will see the famous reversing falls formed twice daily by conflict of the tide and current at the mouth of the St. John River.

Arrival of the King and Queen by motor will be in contrast with that of the last royal visitor, the Duke of Windsor, who, when Prince of Wales, landed at Saint John from H. M. S. Dragon. During a two-hour stay in the demand requires—but the trend of the market prices of your principal products. The prices of both lead and zinc are somewhat under those prevailing during the last quarter of 1938 and considerably so under those prevailing in the first quarter of that year; the average price of lead—expressed in Canadian currency—being $75.23 per ton of 2,240 pounds in the final quarter of 1938 as against $68.41 in the first quarter of 1939. The price of zinc in the same periods has ranged from $68.55 in 1938 to $64.53 in 1939. These trends are not as yet alarming and a little firmer demand will readily stiffen current prices.

"Here, I should like to refer very briefly to the effect of the demands for re-armament on the non-ferrous metals, which has been so clearly explained by Mr. Henry Gardner at the annual meeting of the Amalgamated Metal Corporation in London, England, earlier this month. It is admitted that this demand has done much to keep up the activity of the metal industry, but our experience and that of the industry as a whole is that prices and turnover are more favorably influenced by demand for normal industrial purposes than for re-armament. In Mr. Gardner's words: 'The state of uncertainty that makes re-armament a necessity kills much enterprise and probably cancels more orders than it creates.'"
