INDIAN PEARLS HIGHLY PLACED AS ROYAL GEMS

Some of Queen's Most Prized Jewels Will Be Brought to Canada For Royal Tour Opening May 15

By MOLLIE McGEE Canadian Press Correspondent

LONDON, May 4: (CP)—Once again family safes have been opened, bank vaults visited and jewellers busy for the courts held by Their Majesties brought out of their hiding places the loveliest jewels English women own.

CATERING FOR KING

Details of Service for Their Majesties on Canadian National Lines

MONTREAL, May 4.—Catering arrangements for the train carrying Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth across Canada will be under the personal supervision of W. W. Swinden, general superintendent of sleeping and dining car services of the Canadian National Railways.

Queen Elizabeth has several necklaces of pearls and wears a single string with daytime frocks. The late Queen of Norway was another owner of famous pearls and only to be equalled by those worn by the Queen of Italy.

Fears of Loss

Among the women attending courts are many whose ornaments—though spectacular—are imitation. Even among the women who actually inherit treasures there are many who are afraid something might happen and the jewels reposing in their care for their lifetime—but in reality belonging to the husband's family—might come to some harm.

This fear of loss extends even to royalty. Recently the Queen's jewels were photographed at the Royal Jewellers for protection against robbery and for record purposes.

The most gorgeous collection in private hands is acknowledged by experts to be that belonging to Lady Londonderry. More than a century ago when a former Lady Londonderry visited at the Russian court, the Czar of that time presented her with complete sets of almost breath-taking magnificence.

Bed sheets will be of Canadian cotton and blankets of Canadian wool.

England Gets More Bombings

WHAT WILL BE POLICY MOSCOW—Although many believe that there will be a vital turn in Russian foreign policy following the release "at his own request" of Maxim Litvinoff as commissar of foreign affairs, the fact that Litvinoff for years has been the chief target of Nazi attacks is no proof that relations with Germany must become friendlier.

Such is Service That is Being Given by Canadian Press, Says Chief

Europe Coverage

TORONTO, May 4: (CP)—H. P. Duchemin K.C. of the Sydney Post-Record told the annual meeting of The Canadian Press yesterday in his presidential address that "it is no exaggeration to say that The Canadian Press is today giving the Canadian people a new service which is unsurpassed by that of any other country in the world."

Following is the text of Mr. Duchemin's address: "Any discerning survey of the outstanding events in the history of the Canadian Press since we assembled in general meeting a year ago compels the judgment that important new milestones of progress have been achieved by our great organization in the past twelve months. Our London office has been further improved in organization and personnel with a resultant betterment in the character of the general service the newspapers of Canada are receiving from Great Britain."

"I refer particularly to its admirable coverage of the Continent of Europe with respect to the conspiracy of events which culminated in the Munich crisis and to its prompt and comprehensive reports of developments at Washington relating to the whole international situation. The Havas Agency too has become an invaluable contributor to the steadily expanding Canadian Press service. Both because it is a French news agency and because of its efficient and accurate reports on the constantly changing European situation, it may fairly be described as an indispensable supplementary feature of the superb cable service The Canadian Press has built up for its membership."

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Prince Rupert Teachers' Federation in Session Last Night

At the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association last evening in Booth Memorial School reports of the recent annual provincial convention on the British Columbia Teachers' Federation were presented. J. S. Wilson, the president, was in the chair.

The convention occupied four days and the delegates had a strenuous time. Demonstration schools had formed an interesting part of the program. There had been many meetings of the various sections, the elementary schools, the Junior and Senior High Schools all having section meetings dealing with their own particular phases of the work. Reports of the executive meetings were given by J. S. Wilson. These had included a four-hour session with Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education. Dr. Weir discussed the local situation and stated that he expected to visit Prince Rupert on his return from the east. Dr. H.B. King, chief inspector for the province, also expressed his intention of paying a visit.

The illness of Harry Charlesworth, general secretary of the Federation, threw a shadow over the closing meeting of the convention.

In addition to the usual musical and dance, a conducted tour of the CBR radio station in the afternoon and an invitation to be present at one of the broadcasts provided a lighter relief from the business of the convention. A talk on "Recent Developments of Educational Films in Canada" was interesting and was supplemented by a feature film, "Yellow Cruise," an hour and a half of travel with the Citroen Expedition from Beirut across Asia to Peking. Splendid musical programs were heard as preliminary features of various meetings and at intervals.

What Polish Foreign Minister States May Bear Upon Situation

Possibility of Hitler Marching Into Danzig and Corridor is Discussed—Might Precipitate Conflict

BERLIN, May 4: (CP)—A prominent diplomat here expressed conviction that the tone of Polish Foreign Minister Joseph Beck's speech tomorrow will decide whether war fears are again to be lifted for the time being or whether Chancellor Adolf Hitler will take almost immediate action against Danzig and the Polish corridor in which he seeks concessions which Beck has so far refused to concede. If Beck is moderate, the war spectre may be banished, he said.
