Today there is a rumor around that the starting up of work on the G. T. P. developments for depot and hotel site will put all Centre street and the access to the present G. T. P. wharves in I such shape as to make it absolutely necessary for Prince Rupert to have the new wharf open for passenger traffic so that incomers may not get the impression on first landing in Rupert I that the city is a mere morass o ( excavation and grading tracks.

Dick McBride's private wharf, f if only completed, would certainly give tourists and -incoming business visitors a far better impression of Prince Rupert than even the present G. T. P. wharfage, extensive though it is. The new spring buffer arrangement would in itself excite favorable comment as an up-to-date device, but as things are at pres-I ent it looks as if the springs were Sonly to prevent any unseemly jar to Dick's own feelings should he ANY person found in possession of two happen in his old age to want to use his private wharf.

Despite its modern device, the wharf in its present stage jars everybody that casts a glance at it. Even the most optimistic in more more more realty man dares not do more than call attention to it when showing off the development of the city. You won't find a picture of it on show in the city or published outside.
