Wallace Beery and Mickey Rooney Featured in "Stablemates" at Capitol Theatre

Arthur Silversides Buys Double Corner of Third Avenue and Second Street

A dramatic story of what goes on behind the scenes of modern race tracks is unfolded in "Stablemates," co-starring Wallace Beery and Mickey Rooney, which commences at the Capitol Theatre here tonight and will continue with matinee and evening shows on the Good Friday holiday.

The story, a dramatic narration of the friendship of a broken down veterinarian and a penniless stable boy, takes Beery back to the type of characterization such as he gave in "The Champ," "Min and Bill" and "Tugboat Annie."

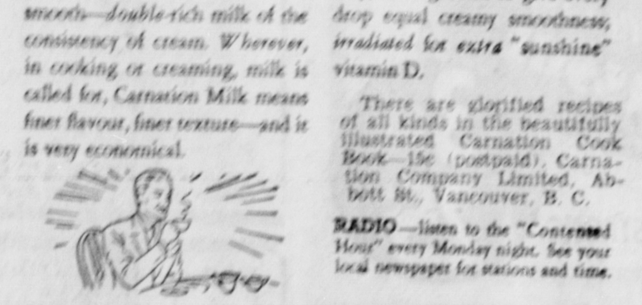

Mickey Rooney has a role that tests his versatility to every way. It is just the opposite type from that he has in the Judge Hardy series.

Highlights of the story is the performing by Beery of a dangerous operation on the horse which young Rooney owns and loves. There is an hercule ending in which Beery sacrifices his freedom so that Rooney may keep his horse.

Actual race track scenes have been reproduced and some famous horses are seen in action.

Sale is announced today of the double corner property at the northwest of Third Avenue and Second Street by Mrs. F. McB. Young and Mrs. C. A. Eggert to Arthur Silversides, the deal having been negotiated by G. P. Tinker Ltd. Mr. Silversides, who occupies the property at present, said this morning that he had no immediate plans for further development.

Dr. Hugh Morrison, inspector of schools, left on last evening's train for a trip to Terrace on official duties. He is due back on tonight's train.

Man, Brag About Your Wife

by Mary Blake

Do you brag about the coffee she makes? If that isn't easy to do—get her to try Carnation Milk for creaming the coffee. It may surprise you what a new, rich, smooth flavour you'll find.

Carnation gives smooth richness to good coffee because Carnation Milk itself is rich and smooth—double-rich milk of the consistency of cream. Wherever, in cooking or creaming, milk is called for, Carnation Milk means finer flavour, finer texture—and it is very economical.

For one use where cost doesn't matter, economical Carnation is also best—in baby-feeding. More digestible than cows' milk in any other form. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

There are glorified recipes of all kinds in the beautifully illustrated Carnation Cook Book—15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbott St., Vancouver, B. C.

SOME CARNATION BEVERAGES.

Coffee creamed with Carnation, of course. For cafe au lait, use equal parts hot coffee and hot Carnation Milk. Try mixing part Carnation with two parts tomato juice. Here's a surprising one—mix equal parts Carnation Milk and ginger ale. Carnation Cocktail—½ cup Carnation Milk, ½ cup fruit juice, 1 egg—mix well and chill. Spiced milk—¾ tsp. cinnamon, dash of nutmeg, 3 cups boiling water, 3 cups Carnation Milk. Pour boiling water on spices, then Carnation. Stir vigorously.
