Venetia Feero Becomes Bride Of Sergeant George Madill At Lovely Home Ceremony

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Feero, Fourth Avenue East, on Saturday evening was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Venetia Jewall, their youngest daughter, was united in marriage to Sergeant George H. Madill, youngest son of Mrs. M. Madill of this city. The door was opened by Mary Baker and Ione Jacqelin. The guests were received by Mrs. Feero, wearing a gown of purple taffeta with jacket to match and a corsage of white carnations, and Mrs. Madill. wearing a gown of black velvet with shirred jacket and lacey hat to match and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. J. McLeod beautifully sang "Because" after which Miss Jean | Whifflets and the bridal party marched and the bridal party marched down an artistically decorated stairway.

First marched Miss Geraldine Feero, as maid of honor, who wore a dress of pink taffeta with shirred jacket to match and a head corsage with collar at back to match the dress and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations. Beside her was Miss Margaret Pearce of Douglas, The run is not on in full swing as F. A. Movement Booming In England But Scoutmasters Called To Other Service

LONDON, Dec. 4: (CP) -- War has brought a great increase in Boy Scout recruiting, so great that a shortage of Scout masters, many of whom have been called to other service, has developed. Scouts in country districts are doing the work of farm laborers. Some are working as telephone operators in ARP organizations. Some have undertaken to arouse deaf persons in the event of air raids. Many are acting as guides to elderly persons who must go outdoors in the blackout and fear
