CO-OP IN

ing of the Prince Rupert Fisher men's Co-operative Association was held Tuesday in the city with J Saldan chairman and J. Deane, recording secretary. The meeting was very well attended and, it spite of the experience of the poorest fish year on record in the history of the Association, a strong spirit of optimism prevailed as to the present standing of the Association and for the future of co operation.

The board of directors submitted tentative report of the past seaon's business on fish and store operations. Comparative records showed production of fish over the last four years as follows: 1936, 1,500,000 pounds. 1937, 1,800,000 pounds.

1938. 2,250,000 pounds.

1939, 1,160,000 pounds. sociation operated, in addition to its four camps and Prince Rupert stores, the Seven Mile and North Island stores of the North Island Trollers Co-operative Association The total sales of all stores aggregated $122,568.00. Apart from the North Island stores, the Association had an increase of $17,000 in sales over 1938 operations. Although the season was a rather unsatisfactory one for fishing, the store operation was considered quite satisfactory. A resolution was passed voting $100 as a donation to aid in the expenses of the fishermen and their representatives in connection with the present sitting of the Sloan Royal Commission on fish

While the meeting was opposed to Hitlerism, a resolution was passed opposing the conscription of Canadian manpower to be used in European wars.

A resolution was introduced and passed requesting the provincial government to amend the income tax act with reference to co-operative organizations to harmonize with the Federal Act.

Several motions were passed as recommendations to the new Prince Rupert Fishermen's Cooperative Association scheduled to
