SERIOUS SITUATION

DAILY EDITION

The international situation is looking serious and no one can say just what will happen. Evidently Prime Min- er for the day was Simundsen with 147. ister Chamberlain at last realized that it is useless to try of Grotto with 189. to bargain with Hitler and that the only thing he understands is the mailed fist. Great Britain and France have been making tremendous efforts to improve their position. They have been spending tremendous amounts of money and are undoubtedly getting results. Germany has been strengthening its position economically by the taking over of Czechoslovakia and will continue to do so unless stopped. If this goes on we shall all be under the Nazi thumb pretty soon.

NON-RECOGNITION

It is quite evident that Hitler is laughing to himself when he hears that the British and the Franch refuse to recognize his peaceful conquest of Czechoslovakia. Nonrecognition means little for eventually, if no steps are taken to prevent it, the recognition will be accorded. Strength is the only thing that counts in Europe today. If Britain can show that she is in a position to drive Germany out, there will be no war, but, if Germany thinks she can win, this will be as good a time as any to precipitate a conflict. Everything has been moving in that direction for some time past.

DIFFICULT COMPETITION

According to information received here, some of the workmen in one section of Dalmatia receive only about fifteen cents a day in wages. Skilled labor is worth something more. The result is they can produce goods for sale on the world market and undersell every nation except Further Details Of Dominion Japan. In a country like Canada it is almost impossible to compete against the low wage countries. That is why Canadian industries do not develop as rapidly as they might.

C.P.R. IDEAL

If the idea of the Canadian Pacific Railway is to concentrate all the business of Canada in a few miles along National Recreation of Prince Ruthe southern boundary of the country, we suggest that is pert have qualified for the final, not the way to develop the country. W. M. Neal, vice is a nation-wide shoot run on the president of the C.P.R., says it was an extravagance try- postal system with fired match ing to develop the port of Prince Rupert.
