MACDONALD DELIGHTFUL

Singing Star Here In "Broadway Serenade" With Lew Ayres, Frank Morgan And Ian Hunter

Taking full advantage of the versality of the popular singing star, "Broadway Serenade," starring Jeanette MacDonald at the Capitol Theatre during the first half of this week, traces the struggles of a young singer and her husband in their fight for success and gives Miss MacDonald full scope for her magnificent voice. The melodies range from grand opera to semi-classical and popular selections. Appearing opposite the singing star is Lew Ayres, taking the part of a musician and composer. Frank Morgan, in a typical comedy part, is a Broadway producer. Ian Hunter is the third point of the love triangle. Al Shean, famous old vaudevillian, is an elderly concert 'cellist. Other members of the cast are Virginia Grey, Rita Johnson, William Gargan and Franklin Pangborn.

Miss MacDonald and Ayres start out as a song and piano team at cheap night clubs. Miss MacDonald, after some vicissitudes, rises to stardom and Ayres stays behind. The wealthy "angel" of the story comes into the picture. Ayres misunderstands and there is a divorce. All, however, ends on a harmonious note through the good offices of Frank Morgan.

Olof Hanson Describes Dramatic Scene in House of Commons When War Declared

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its dinner meeting last night, heard at first hand from Olof Hanson M.P. very interesting report on the brief special session of Parliament in which war was declared. It was a dramatic session and all members took a very keen interest in the proceedings.

According to Mr. Hanson J. S. Woodsworth and Agnes McPhail, C.C.F. members, led off the discussions with speeches in which they declared themselves absolutely against war. Then followed speeches from Quebec, something like thirty members opposing Canada's participation. The turning point came with Right Hon. Ernest Lapointe declaring that Empire countries could not be partners when the sun shone and against when it became cloudy. He told what would happen if Canada decided to link up its fortunes with the country to the south. Canadians would receive no priviliges there such as they now were given. It was a wonderful speech, deeply emotional, in which he urged the people of Canada and especially those from Quebec to stand for the right, not against Germany but against Nazi Germany. There were tears in the eyes of the veteran statesman as he spoke, Mr. Hanson said.

When the vote was taken the speaker put the question and only two stood in their places asking for a recorded vote. As two was not sufficient under the rules, the resolution calling for the country taking part in the war was declared carried unanimously. Prime Minister King then telephoned London stating that Canada was unanimously with the Empire in the great struggle.

Mr. Hanson then referred to the Quebec election, the result of which showed that the whole of Canada was still with Britain, standing for justice and freedom. He was proud to be representative of this part of the country at such a time. There might often be minor disagreements but there was only one problem before Canada now and that was winning the war.

GAMES FOR HELSINKI

No Decision Made As Yet To Transfer 1940 Olympics To Detroit

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, October 31:—Denying reports that it had been decided to transfer the 1940 Olympic Games from Helsingfors Finland, to Detroit, the secretary of the International Olympic Committee yesterday said that only renouncement of the games by Finland would cause such a change to be made. At Helsingfors the Finnish Foreign Office said that it was still hoped to have the Games there as planned "if the situation permits."

Detroit is to have the 1944 Olympic Games. The 1940 Games were originally to have been held in Tokyo but Japan relinquished them and then Helsingfors (Helsinki) was awarded them.
