ANOTHER ELECTION PREDICTION

"Canadian Business," a magazine sponsored by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce with headquarters at Palfrey Fabyan. Montreal, predicts that in the election, which it expects will take place in October, the Liberals will be returned by a small majority. The admission is made rather reluctantly. Other predictions are that the government party will go back to Ottawa just as strong as it is today, if not stronger. We think it much too early to make predictions. Also it is plain that many things may happen before October and that there may not be an election in October.

CHANGED POSHON

The announcement two days ago that Russia and Germany had made a non-aggression pact following the trade pact announcement came as a great shock to people of all the democratic countries who were looking to Russia to help hold Germany back from further aggressive movements. It has upset the calculations of all the prophets and experts and even now it is difficult to decide what is likely to happen. People are wondering how it will affect Japan or is Italy, leader of the anti-comintern movement, agreeing to the move? All we can do is to await developments.

The suggested possibility that the Russian move may have been for the purpose of preventing any country precipitating war would sound reasonable were it not for the fact that we know so much of Germany and German methods. It is evident that Germany expects to gain from the move or she would not have made it.

It is just possible that Danzig may decide to join Germany and then it might be looked upon as an act of aggression to stop her. There are all sorts of angles to this situation.

WHAT ABOUT JAPAN?

What about Japan? It is just possible that she is damning the white men as being without honor, undependable, vacillating. She was used by the axis powers for their own ends and then cast off like an old shoe. At the suggestion of Germany she has been irritating Great Britain to try to draw her forces from the European area and make it easier for Hitler to get what he wanted. Now she has lost Britain as a friend and has no friend to replace her.
