Allies Determined On Assuring Carrying Out Of Set Principles

HYDE PARK, New York, October 7: (CP)-President Franklin D. Roosevelt today told newspapermen that he had nothing to say about Berlin dispatches that Chancellor Adolf Hitler would accept an armistice in the European war if United States proposed it. The question of whether Roosevelt was turning down a suggestion that he act as mediator or merely awaiting developments was left eace proposals, as expressed in his speech yesterday bethe German Reichstag, are quite unacceptable in heir present form to both Great Britain and France. This as become apparent from official statements issued in oth countries yesterday. It is expected here that they nay be further amplified through diplomatic quarters by means, possibly, of neutral nations. In spite of a certain note of defiance in his original speech yesterday, it has since been suggested that Hitler is really anxious for an armistice and hopeful that the United States. Italy or some other nation may take up his suggestion for the calling of IVIA a conference. It has been hinted that Hitler may wait for ten days before making another move. Great Britain will stand by the pledge of both Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, to carefully examine any peace proposals, no matter how unacceptable they may seem. France appears to be more unyielding and resolved to carry on the war without interruption.
